Shannon,

Sorry I waited so long to sign your yearbook. I hope your senior year will be better than mine was. I wish we could still be best friends but, like you said, "We're gone separate ways". We've had great times together and I will never forget them. Take care and always remember the Lord in whatever you do. I know how [redacted] easy it is to fall away from Him during school hours. Just remember He's always watching. Your a great friend and I care a lot for you, I dont want Heather to lead you the wrong way. I'm not saying she will but... Just keep your faith in the Lord.

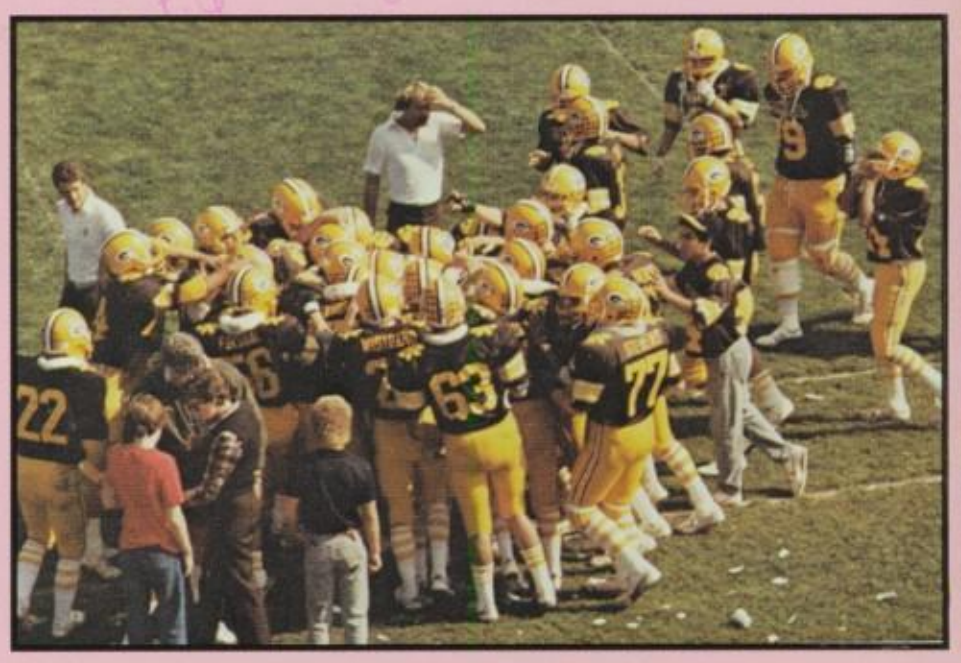
▶ (below) Getting psyched before a game and the party that follows one are part of the fun that the varsity football team is a part of.



School is:
a) a place to learn
b) a place to have fun
c) both of the above

The answer to this question is, of course, "c". Gunderson serves as both an educational facility and a meeting place for friends and fun, and a party is the most basic form of having fun.

"Having a Ball" at sporting events is easy to do. Whether you are a player on the field or a fan in the stands, sports involve fun. Athletics also involve learning agility, self-confidence, and good sportsmanship. The parties following winning games also provide an opportunity for fun and good times.

"By Invitation," students participate in academics. Besides learning basic skills, the educational process instills students with pride and a sense of accomplishment. Celebrations follow good grades, high test scores, and the relief that comes when finals are over.

There are as many different ways of having fun as there are students. Drama productions, dances, and club activities are all part of the "Life of the Party." Everyone needs a chance to just get away from schoolwork once in a while.

The reason why the 1986 celebration is so special is it is Gunderson's 10th anniversary. The school's endurance and positive impact on the community are to be commended. So let's throw a party!!!

School spirit has slumped in recent years. Although rally attendance is poor, Gunderson is not lifeless. Just mention the word "party" and a cheer goes up. The "Guest List" for this special party includes every student who helps make Gunderson the unique place it is.

High school is a time for friends and fun that should be connected with fond memories. Parties are a part of these remembrances, especially during this anniversary year.

— Christi Hughes

HAPPY 10TH!

▶ Above: Seen here in the construction stage, Gunderson cost 15 million dollars to build. Proposition 13 as well as district bankruptcy led to cutbacks in the school's operational budget, mainly a one third cut of electives. However, new lottery funding will hopefully remedy this situation.

In ten years, a person grows from an infant to a preadolescent. Gunderson has also undergone many changes in the first ten years of its existance.

In 1976, Gunderson first opened its doors to 1105 students. The student population has since grown by 75%, partly due to the expansion to a four year school.

Students come and go, but teachers stay here forever, right? WRONG! Only 25% of the original staff remains at Gunderson. A change of principals has also taken place in the school's young life.

A change to conservative school officials has resulted in many controversial changes, such as the dress code, the impending closed campus rule, and a limiting of senior activities.

In the next ten years, a child grows to an adult, and Gunderson will surely continue its changeable nature.

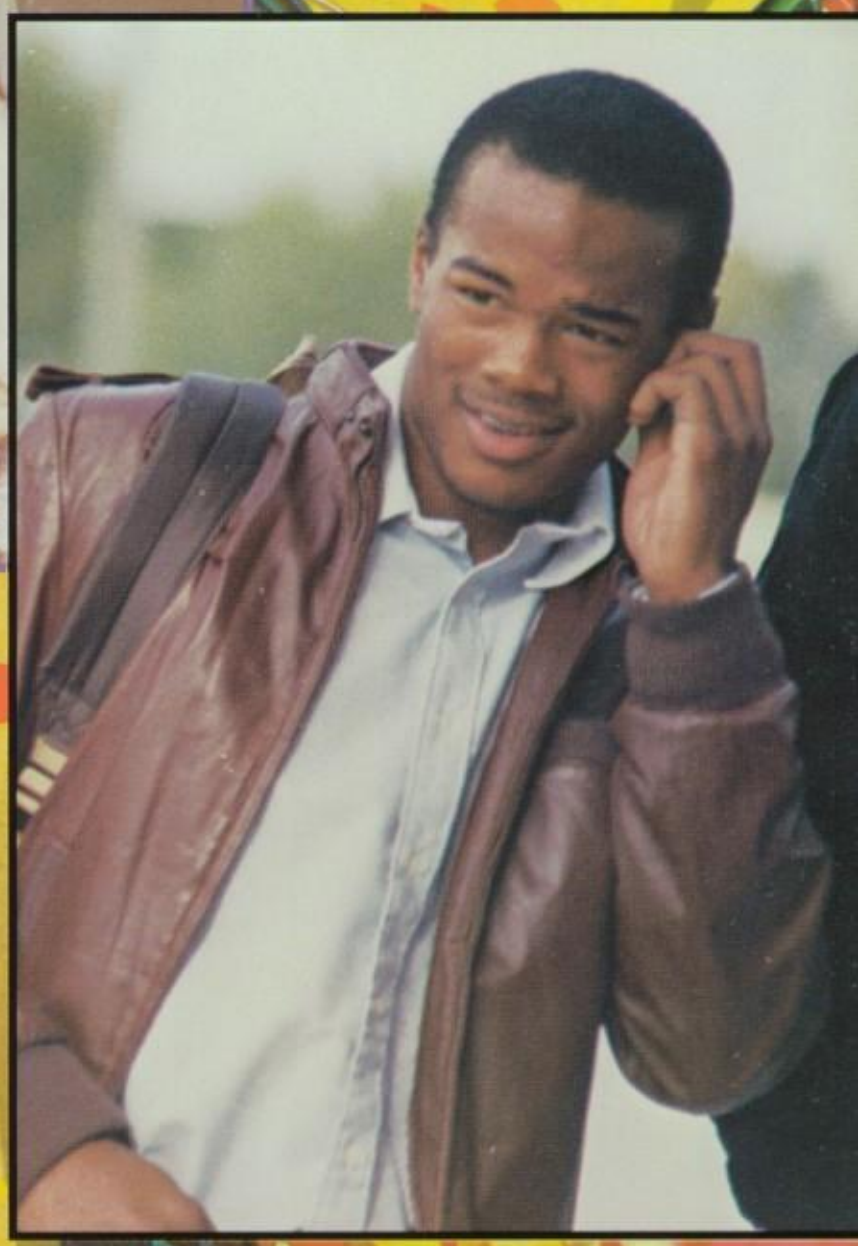
▶ Below: Shawn Sykes debating on who to ask to Friday's dance.



"Hey! Where's the party!"

"It's at Gunderson."

"Oh yeeh! Where else could it be?!?!"

Balloons, streamers, music, food, people . . . these, along with many other things, are the basic ingredients of a successful party. But what's the main ingredient? Why, it's the fun, of course!

Throughout its ten year history, Gunderson has always been known as a school of academic excellence. Its students have strived to attain the highest of standards, accomplishing beyond their goals. Yes, Gunderson students work hard, but we play hard too!

We students know the inside scoop on how to have fun. In fact, we wrote the book! "Fun" means different things to different people. To some, it may mean being involved in extracurricular activities such as Yearbook, Paw Print, or Drama. To others, it means being with friends at one of Gunderson's many dances or membership to one of our clubs. In any case, "fun" means having a ball with those we care about and enjoying life to its fullest. The following section, "Student Life," depicts Gunderson students at their best . . . having fun and being "the life of the party."

SLAM!

The inside story of our lockers

Dial, dial, dial, dial, "Fourteen. . . thirty-two. . . twenty-sevennn . . ." Click . . . SLAM!!! "You Jerk!" Dial, dial, dial . . .

Thus begins the story of one of Gunderson's oldest and most frequently used pranks: the shutting of a friend's locker. It is amazing that this activity has persevered for so long, yet still doesn't seem to be an "old joke."

Gunderson has a wide variety of teenagers attending, and also has a wide variety of locker decorations. They can range anywhere from Teddy bears and kittens for those who enjoy "cute," heavy metal pictures and radio station decals for the rockers, photos of hunks and cheesecakes for those who enjoy a different type of "cute," and mirrors for the conceited. What is inside a locker tells a lot about a person, and what he thinks about most. This is not to infer, however, that a blank locker indicates a blank mind.

One question: Why are our lockers so small? This is high school! I mean, some of us have BIG books. Let's face it: Beaver Cleaver had a locker bigger than ours in elementary school.

In the student survey, 85% of the students said they used their own lockers. Using the reasonable answers (212 is not reasonable), 37% said they used one locker, 36% use two, and 25% use more than two. Two poor lowly students don't even have lockers. Only 15% of the students consider their lockers to be spotless, and the other 85% is divided equally among messy and average. 58% proudly declared that they could get their lockers open on the first try, unlike the rest of us dummies (42%) who can't.

In conclusion, lockers tend to spice up the school hallways. Just imagine how bland the halls would be without them. On the other hand, imagine how wide the halls would be without them.

Endurance

The seniors survived and are ready for the world.

The senior class of 1986 has shown an enormous amount of endurance by handling the constant demands put upon them. In 1982, they became the first freshmen ever to attend Gunderson High School. The usual freshman slurs echoed through the halls that year. Getting through that first year as quickly as possible was the name of the game. As sophomores, the class was the first to be affected by the Department of Motor Vehicles' provisional license for people under the age of 18. The license said in effect that the student wasn't a licensed driver, but could drive anyway. As they went into their junior and senior year, the class of '86 anticipated not having a sixth period. They were wrong. They were required to take six courses even though it was not needed credit wise. As senior Nichole Bice argued, "It was not necessary, it was not fun because it took away free time in our junior and senior year when we're supposed to be enjoying ourselves." But even though the class of '86 was forced to graduate with another class into high school, given a provisional license and forced to take six classes, they have accepted this with dignity and have shown endurance.

All these hardships through the years have prepared the class of '86 for the troubles around the corner. Now, as senior class president Laurie Chapman said, "We are trying to enjoy our last year at Gunderson." But as seniors, they face the problem of what to do after graduation. Anxiety strikes! What college to go to? Do I have the G.P.A. and S.A.T. scores for college? Or . . . What do I want to be? Where do I get a job? Do I go to trade school or a J.C.? and finally "What am I going to do?! Knowing the Class of '86, what ever decision is made, they will again show the endurance to succeed.

Spirit Week

Mickey Mouse at Gunderson?

Mickey Mouse was featured as one of the most popular characters on Disney Day. Spirit week this year was fun, but didn't receive as much support as in the previous years. Spirit week started on October 20th. Monday was T-shirt day, Tuesday, Disney Day, Wednesday, Hippie Day, and Thursday was Hawiian Day, sponsored by the Seniors who had a luau in the forum. They brought their own sand, towels, chairs, radio, and suntan oil, proving to be the most spirited class again. Friday was Gold and Brown Day. Everyone showed up for the rally pumped up to beat those Lincoln Lions!

Never surrending Gunderson makes it through it's 10th annual spirit week. The crash posters were exceptional. The Senior's poster done by Eric Hanvelt, with help from Laurie Chapman and Shannon Miller, won with a truly awesome poster, featuring five grizzles just waiting to defeat the Lions!

Many people were dedicated to making this years Homecoming a success, staying up 'til early morning working on the floats, decorating the gym, stands, and throughout the rest of the school. By Friday everyone was anxious for the game. Good Job Grizzles!

Gunderson Nevers Surrenders

The alarm clock rang! I looked out the window . . . another foggy homecoming day! I put on my Gunderson clothes: the painter hat, jacket, sweatshirt, scarf and buttons. I gathered up my spirit paraphernalia, and got ready for the big day. As I walked out the door . . . sunshine. Surely, sunshine made the day a winning success.

The floats were filled with spirited students with their enthusiastic attitudes. The stands were filled with the Gunderson student body, families, and the alumni who were cheering on the Gunderson Grizzlies football teams to victory. Both J.V. and Varsity easily conquered the Lincoln Lions. Rick Uribe (Varsity football player) stated, "Seeing all the Gunderson fans up in the stands, pumped us up so much, encouraged us to make Lincoln wish they never stepped on to our football field." Varsity annihilated the Lions with a score of 33-0, and J.V. was also victorious with a 34-0 win over the Lions.

The gold balloons floating through the sky accented the festivities, along with the aroma of hot dogs and popcorn. Everyone gathered together to sing the new school song with the Gunderson spirit squad. "The song was rad," stated a few Gunderson students that were very excited about the song. Ecstatic people also filled the stands, constantly showing their school spirit by their "screams" and "boos." Gunderson surely did not "surrender" to the Lincoln Lions, and this year will prove to be a successful one for the Varsity football team and student body.

Dancing the Night Away

Christmas Lights in October?

No, the mysterious mother nature did not speed up her clock and forward the seasons, Gunderson students developed a great new way to decorate the gym for a dance. Christmas lights surely remind people of reindeer, but at the Homecoming Dance on Oct. 26, they created a romantic, tranquil atmosphere. The dance floor provided a corral for the mob of enthusiastic dancers and the bleachers supplied a sanctuary for the love birds, with Christmas lights twinkling overhead. The decorative lights encompassed the gym, while a center arrangement of streamers and balloons dangled from the middle of gym. The variety of music captivated our ears. The picture drop had a look of simple elegance. Our Gunderson Grizzlies tried to "Never Surrender" in the picture lines, but many left the lines in order to enjoy the dance. Those who stayed in line enjoyed at least an hour wait, while those who had pictures taken right away felt a great feeling of relief. "I enjoyed the dance for the time we got to dance, but I didn't appreciate having to spend 1 ½ hrs. in line for our pictures. They should of had two photographers." Heather Hberling "The dance was a lot of fun and the music was really good. It's too bad the picture line was so long, I didn't make it through" Christine Lovell

The dance broke up around 10:15 when couples started leaving to continue celebrating elsewhere, while others still waited in line for pictures until about 11 p.m.

Grizzlies Show Their True Colours

What do fleshers, terrorists, cross dressers, President Reagan and his secret service men all have in common? They are all members of the Gunderson student body. Well . . . they were, on October 31, 1985. The Grizzlies showed their spirit by dressing as outrageously as possible. "President Reagan" was escorted around campus by his secret service men, armed with pseudo-Uzis. They were really convincing. "The President' even had a Band-aid on his nose, covering his recent surgery. Flanking "the President" was a band of terrorists, complete with fatigues and bandoliers. Not all costumes were politically-oriented, however. There were male cheerleaders, complete with pompoms, fleshers dressed in nothing more than raincoats, and babies equipped with Teddy bears and pacifiers.

The traditional Halloween parade was held during fourth period. Led by the cafeteria staff, dressed as Indians, the spirited Grizzlies marched around school, through the halls, the portables, and the forum. After the parade, treats were given out to all students who participated. "It was a good opportunity to get out of class!" said Jon Aumann, senior.

This Halloween was an expression of enthusiasm. It ranged from the disgusting to the delightful.

Photo-journalism was more than taking pictures. There were deadlines to meet and additional activities assigned to help them learn more about their field. April Jenkins was this year's editor and with all her attempts to have kept things in order she still had to be on top of photos going out and coming in. Her assistance were Joe Nemcik and Eddie Fritz. April has remarked on their service as "invaluable". Mr. Root, as advisor, has allowed a lot of freedom for them to work and they appreciated it. ## In the morning?

Grizzly leadership has a different look this year, an early morning look. I take that back, I meant an early, early, morning look. Class began at 7:00 a.m., but people staggered in until about 7:15 a.m. "It's hard to get up and get to class on time," explained Tina Zapata. The most common expression on poeples face was a 360 degree smile (yawn). The dominant noise in the classroom was the roar from peoples stomachs. All period we battled with our eyelids trying to keep them open. We suffered from the disease early morning bluesites. "I have problems staying awake", admits Shikha Ghosh.

The 00 Leadership class was established because so many officers held G.P.A.'s of 3.0 or better, maintained jobs and participate in sports or spirit, and were limited on time. This class allowed ample time for our officers and others leaders to carry out their responsibilities. The class also provided lecture days instructed by Mr. Moran.

Officers are recognized at the end of the year with a plaque or pin, but there are far too many leaders than awards for their service. Many go unnoticed by their peers, faithfully representing and improving their school, with the only reward, self-gradification.

Yearbook

Hosting a Celebration

"Yuck! I can't handle this dorm food any more," exclaimed Cathy LaFleur. Most of the people who attended the Yearbook camp reacted in the same manner. Five of 1984-85 El Oso staff members attended the yearbbook workshop at University of California at Santa Barbara in August. It was the El Oso Yearbook staff's first collaboration with its new publishing company, Hunter. This consisted of a four-day workshop, which included lectures on themes, layouts, copy, and graphic design, which are the main ingredients of making an outstanding yearbook.

The reasons for change of company according to Christi Hughes, 1985-86 yearbook editor, was that the old publishing company, Herff Jones, was negligent in product standards, and the penalty for missing a deadline was too severe. Also, the fact that Hunter cost less than Herff Jones contributed to the decision of changing the company.

After a decade of hectic, grueling days, trying to meet deadlines, the 1985-86 staff turned to creative organization. Long range planning and application of fun and work raised staff spirit. Yearbook class had spirit days of its own: a pizza party, and Halloween party, etc. Though the class was the largest ever, the staff worked in unison to meet their goal, to top last year's yearbook quality.

Dracula . . .

bites again!

"Ha, Ha, Ha," the evil voice of Dracula lurked throughout the school over the loud speaker. "Come and see Dracula 1985, Wait For The Dawn you foolish mortals! Ha, Ha, Ha!" The fall play was highly publicized — for a good reason. The cast of Dracula 1985 put on great performances all four nights, starting October 31st through November 3rd. A lot of time and effort was put into the play by both cast and crew. The cast rehearsed for over six weeks. The play was written by Jeff Bengford, a former student of Gunderson.

Dracula 1985, Wait For The Dawn was a play within a play. It was about a play written by Liz Harker (Robin Williams). The great-granddaughter of Johnathan Harker. When Johnathan died, Liz found his diary which explained about his battle with Dracula. Liz wrote a play, based on the diary. Dracula tried out for the part of "Dracula," posing as Anton (Jeff Draper).

Soon, a member of the cast, Terry (Paul Pesek), realized who Anton really was. Renfield (Brent Beebe) quickly killed him. During the final dress rehearsal, Dracula appeared as himself, ready to take Liz as his bride. Rather than living an immortal life with Dracula, Liz threatened to kill herself. Dracula was blinded by daylight, Liz drove a stake through Dracula. He melted away, leaving his cape behind. After everyone thought Dracula was dead, he came back to life.

Robin Williams enjoyed playing the part of Liz Harker because her character was a "strong and realistic woman of the ages." Robin really liked working with Jeff Draper. Robin said, "We have great chemistry when we work together." Robin enthusiastically said, "A lot of time and energy went into the show. We had a close-knit cast and crew. That is vital for having the show turn out well."

Alternative

Top 40 vs. Alternative

Tears For Fears, OMD, Scritti Politti, Depeche Mode, Thompson Twins, ABC . . .

Do these names sound familiar to you? To some, these are the names of five "brand new" bands to watch out for. To others, these are names of "best friends," bands that have been known and loved for yers.

To the first group of people, Tears For Fears and OMD are bands which have only been known to them for the past year. They are the listeners of Top 40 stations (KWSS, KITS, KFRC, etc.). These stations "play the hits:" songs from newly released albums which are destined to reach the top of Billboards' chart. Therefore, their selection is limited. KWSS and other Top 40 stations consider the previous bands and many others (Simple Minds, Dead or Alive, Spandau Ballet, etc.) as "newcomers." They pick up these "new" bands and proceed to play them to death; songs are constantly played over and over again.

Alternative radio plays the latest and the favorites of the new music scene. KSJS, KSCU, and KFJC are local alternative stations which provide listeners with the latest in new music ranging from British to Bay Area bands. They are a fresh alternative to Top 40 radio, because they play unreleased and import singles from various new artists, unlike Top 40 radio which only play "hits." Alternative radio has a greater program span including artists such as INXS, the Alarm, Wire Train, Smiths, Cure, Siouxsie, Book of Love, etc. Without alternative radio, new music and bands would not succeed.

FADS+FASHION

STYLE:

A fashionable luxerious mode off life's Grace in appearance (see fashion)

Gunderson is unique in the fact that the students have so many different tastes. We get a variety of colors, textures, and trends each year. Some popular trends go from wearing a sweatshirt around your waist to those plastic rubber bracelets students wear on their wrists and ankles. Colors and designs range from bright reds, yellows, blues, and black in plaids. Purples, blues, rose colors, and greens in florals; Jay Sims, a senior guy, says, "All florals look like old curtains." Pastel colors such as yellow and pink are used in paisley. Says Paula Sarrett, a senior girl, "I like guys in paisley shirts."

Gunderson students also make good scents this year with fragrances like Polo and Georgio. For those sporty-type Grizzlies, there is the great Reebok tennis-shoe and K-Swiss, Sperry for those surf-prep types.

Other hot trends this year are brooches, sporty Swatch watches and almost every girl Grizzly has stirrup or stretch pants. Let's not forget the loose-fitted clothing — the oversized shirts.

Throughout the school year we see that Grizzlies are very conscious of their appearance. Hair care this year has us in a fad of using Mousse, Gel, or Spritz Forte. There are numerous styles for haircuts from flat-tops and side-parted for guys and short, bobbed or wavy for girls.

Gunderson Grizzlies definitely keep up with the fads and fashions of today.

Gunderson goes for The Bird.

"Eat Dirt! Eat Worms!" One of Gunderson's favorite comedies is Moonlighting, starring Cybill Shepard (winner of Best actress in a Comedy Series), with Bruce Willis, who tied for second in the male category with Michael J. Fox, of Family Ties. But the big winner for both favorite Comedy Series and Comedic Actor.

Its upbeat colours, fast paced plot, and use of rock music, ranging from Phil Collns to The Doors gave Miami Vice (another NBC series) victories for Best T.V. Series, Actor, and Animal. "It's different than any other show on the air," Paul Sanchez, Jr. stated. Joan Collins, of Dynasty proceeded to win Gunderson's approval as Favorite Villainess and Actress in a television show. And who would make a better partner for her than the Terminator (aka Arnold Scharzenegger), who led the male category for Best Villain.

The Breakfast Club and Beverly Hills Cop won for Best Movies. Eddie Murphy and Molly Ringwald won for Best Comedic Actors. On a more serious note Best Actor/Actress went to Meryl Streep and Sylvester Stallone.

"When things get tough, the tough go shopping!" The student body of Gunderson, in general, follows this motto. Others, prefer to stay home, and read one of their favorite magazines for girls, Seventeen and for guys, GQ.

In general, the students of Gunderson cannot be stereotyped, but can be described as a bunch of people who love to laugh and party!

HAPPENINGS

Events That Change Our Lives

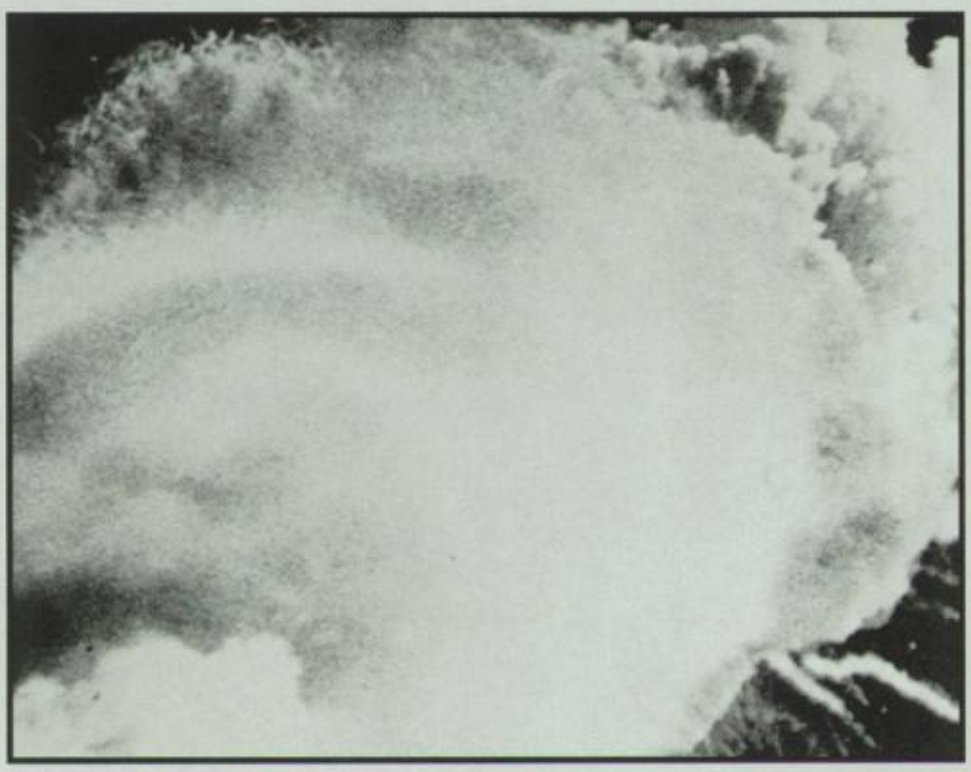
In recent months the US has been rocked with emotional ups and downs. In June we saw the unfolding of a spy scandal right in our own backyard. While on an up note, in July we met the first teacher to make the voyage into space, Christa McAuliffe. But this too soon ended in grief: on January 28, the space shuttle Challenger, carrying 7 astronauts (including McAuliffe), exploded in front of the nation's eyes. Here in the Bay Area, during the past summer, brush fires threatened disaster for homes and wildlife in the hills.

Not only were we touched by spy scandals and other mishaps, we were touched by unsafe flight travel. In August, a Texas air crash killed 136 pasengers, and in June and March the hijacking and bombing of two TWA airliners. People close to our hearts were lost: Samantha Smith (our ambassador to the USSR), Rock Hudson, Ricky Nelson and the ever-popular Yankee Doodle Boy, James Cagney.

In the spirit of our country, the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island are being refurbished. Halley's Comet has come for a visit, along with the Prince and Princess of Wales (Charles and Diana). The Super Bowl was won by the Chicago Bears, and the World Series by the Kansas City Royals.



Gunderson also faced some changes. In January the Federal Court's Judge Peckham handed down his decision on the District's desegregation case. It was met in March with a District wide-balloon launch. Also in March V.P. Cabral left, Mr. Bondelie replaced her. Mr. Bell will also be leaving at the end of the year. The changes that have occurred over the past year have left an indelible mark on the students here at Gunderson, and because of this, we have a lot to celebrate.

On June 14 an American airplane, TWA's 847 on its way from Athens to Rome (with 100 American passengers) was hijacked. After learning the hijackers were members of Islamic Jihad (or Holy War), a Shi'ite Muslim group that is a sort of an umbrella for various fundamentalist terrorist groups working out of Lebanon and other Middle Eastern countries. It was here that Americans encountered the reality of terrorism. A brutally murdered American passenger (U.S. Marine Robert Stethem) was dumped on the Tarmac of Beirut Airport. It was only then realized how much terrorism threatens the world of today.

While the US is learning to deal with frightening facts of terrorism, our European neighbors have come to accept it as a fact of life. Bombings in Britain and France have resulted in numerous deaths and injuries. West Germany has come under attack also. On April 4, a nightclub was bombed, injuring 40 and killing 1, all were Americans. It was soon found that it was done by a member of the Libyan government. This attack is in direct reference to the late March attacks taken by the US against Libya in the Gulf of Sidera.

Italy and Greece have been under the most fire. On December 24, Rome's Da Vinci Airport was attacked by terrorists, resulting in many deaths. April 2, another TWA airliner, departing Rome was bombed, killing 5 Americans.

While most terrorist attacks occur in Europe, many are aimed at Americans. But Europe is not alone. Terrorists attacked in October in Egypt's gulf, against the Achille Lauro, killing the helpless Klinghoffer who was bound in a wheel chair. It is through these events that we realize the ugliness of these people who commit such heinous crimes. These are people who follow a path. A path that results in the deaths of innocent people and a sense of fear and terror that engulfs our nation.

The tragic drought that hit Ethiopia, resulting in thousands of lost lives spawned the concert, Live Aid, reminiscent of '71's Woodstock, organized by Boomtown Rats', Bob Geldof. The simultaneously held concert in Wembley, England and Philadelphia, Pa. attracted top performers, where a record $70 million was raised.

Live Aid spawned another concert with similar intentions, this time the money ($10 million) would go to struggling U.S. farmers. Farm Aid held in September was organized by John Cougar Mellencamp and Willie Nelson. Not to go unnoticed, Little Stevie Van Zandt and many other musicians made an album "Sun City," to protest the apartheid government of South Africa. The money raised will go to a UN organization for African nations. Protests and demonstrations can be seen on college campuses throughout the nation.

Major earthquakes in Mexico, led to total destruction of cities. The most hit was Mexico City. This created a growth of human compassion. A concert was at Spartan Stadium in San Jose to benefit victims.

Over the past year a sudden growth towards the helping of our fellow humans. We can only hope it is the beginning towards a more compassionate world and not just another trend.

CHRISTMAS

AND ALL THE WHO'S DOWN IN WHOVILLE SANG, AND SANG, AND SANG . . .

The who's in Whoville? Who are the who's? Besides being in a Dr. Suess book, the who's and their buddy the Grinch were the main attraction at the 1985 Christmas production at Gunderson. Brent Beebe, playing the lead, led the cast and crew to two successful shows nearly sold out. The Grinch once again captured the hearts of parents and children alike.

But Christmas at Gunderson was not just limited to the theatre. The advisors held their annual door-decoration competition, where all the advisors and students decorated their advisory's door. This year, however, lacked the participation and spirit of years past, ending up as somewhat of a failure.

Even though participation at Gunderson was lacking, the Grizzlies once again carried through, and entered a new year in classic Gunderson style.

EXPERIENCE

SAN JOSE — GUNDERSON EXCHANGE

James Gibbons, Jr., fantasized about a dream which became a reality . . .

Dear Diary,

On December 18 at 7:30 a.m., we got our nametags and took roll. Then Gunderson students loaded the bus, and we were on our way to San Jose High School. As soon as we arrived, we were led into the cafeteria where we met the Bulldog, the San Jose mascot. After our show, we were sent into groups, according to grade, where we met our hosts and hostesses. Then we attended their classes. When lunchtime came, there was a DJ playing current songs. After lunch, we attended the remaining two classes. We were led into a room where we heard a brand new band playing. Because of the delay of the bus, we had time to exchange phone numbers and try to say our goodbyes. The bus soon came and it was time to go. Gunderson students loaded the bus once again, said their final goodbyes and we were on our way back to Gunderson. On the bus back there was a lot of talk about the day at San Jose High. All the students definitely learned one thing: we're all the same, no matter what color, what nationality, or what language we speak. We are all kids in a grown up world. Well, talk to you tomorrow.

P.S. Here's what my friends thought about it . . .

"I think it went really well and we should have it with other schools."

The Show

Extraordinaire

"The Show: Extraordinaire" was the theme of Gunderson Fine Arts Department's tenth annual variety show, which was performed on February 7 and 8. The Masters of Ceremonies were Elizabeth Taylor and Joe Nemick, whose Bermuda shorts with tuxedo, amused the audience at appearance.

Enchanting the audience were the director of the show, Jeff Draper, and Paul Pesek's piano duo with their noses and the Swedish Chef act of Gunderson alumni Jeff Bengford. Among the alumni performers were Sean Smith, Barbara Bengford, Robin Pugh, and Diane Gottheiner. A young guest performer, Eugene Jang's violin solo highlighted the show by receiving a standing ovation.

Over twenty acts were performed both nights. Although the show ran smoothly, some of the audience showed signs of boredom and left the show by the middle of the first act on Friday night. But they didn't know what they were missing? As a result, on the second night the house was full and the audience was more enthusiastic than ever.

When asked how he liked the show, Mr. Beck, a faculty member, briefly replied, "I really enjoyed it. That was entertaining!" One of the performers in the show, Heidi Chartrand, Sr., told, "I liked participating, but I was really nervous; my knees were shaking. People were so nice and helpful. They really put a tremendous effort in it."

Concluding the show was the sixth period performing arts class' dance to the theme song of the Miami Vice Sound Track, which the class put in 4-5 weeks of preparation. According to the Fine Arts Department, the show was a success and they are proud of the fact that both nights were sold out.

OPPOSITES . . .

ATTRACT

It's a known fact that opposites do attract. It's been proven time and time again, and this time, is no exception . . .

The Black & White Dance, Gunderson's first of the year, was an overwhelming success. Close to 750 students attended the dance sponsored by Mr. Moran's Leadership class. The dance, as described by Mr. Moran, was a "hands on" lesson for his class, in organizing and producing an event. He planned to use the money earned for a "reinvestment in quality leadership," such as sending students to leadership camps during the summer.

Although many agreed that the DJ wasn't up to par and a greater variety of music was needed, the general opinion was that the dance was fun. "It was colorful," declared Cathy LaFleur, Sr. The theme, "Dancin' in the Streets," did a fantastic job in getting everybody on their feet . . . maybe too good of a job. Twice, the dance needed to be stopped and then restarted again, when the students got carried away and began dancing on the bleachers.

Just as last year's opening "Dancin' in the Sheets" toga dance brought enjoyment to all, so did this year's "Dancin' in the Streets" dance. Once again, the students proved that Gunderson is the place to party!

Carnival

The Greatest Show on Earth

The Junior class' Carnival Dance brought out the party animal in everyone. The dance was held February 28 from 9:00 to 12:00. The reason for the late start was to give the Grizzlies a chance to show their spirit by supporting their team at the CCS Basketball game, and then dance until midnight.

From the looks of the gym and the people, anyone could tell it was going to be a party. Even the bids were sold with pinwheels, a popular childhood toy and party favor. The gym was decorated to resemble a tent at the circus, with streamers strung from the center of the ceiling to the walls. Everyone was dressed in party attire, from shorts to birthday hats, and safari hats to jungle beads.

The dance may have begun slowly, but once the game was over, more people arrived and "the joint was jumpin' " said Nels Fiksdal, Jr. Even the theme song, "Rhythm of the Night" reflected the party mood. The D.J.s helped everyone get rowdy (not that the Grizzlies needed any help) with their great tunes. Top 40, soul, new wave and rock were all played to satisfy everyone's tastes. The D.J.s also performed their own lip-synched version of ZZ Top's song, "Legs." They gave the Grizzlies a blast from the past when they played an oldie from the Beach Boys. The Carnival Dance was proof that the Gunderson Grizzlies LOVE to party.

Power of the Press . . . .

Paw Print

The power of Paw Print has been shown by a group of hard working, inquisitive individuals. Receiving a budget of five thousand dollars, granted from San Jose Unified School District, has allowed the staff to print a well organized newspaper. Paw Print's goals involve honesty, unbiased opinions, curiosity, and finding out the "Why" behind what's going on. Miss Hamor, the Paw Print advisor, teaches her class to work together, to give constructive criticisms, and to cooperate with one another. Being in journalism class will be helpful to them in their future occupations. Skills such as listening, talking to others and being objective. The editor, Patti Rines, and the Co-Editor Kathleen Stahr, are very well organized and they take advice from everyone, which makes working together much easier, and the atmosphere a little more exciting. The use of computers has helped the staff tremendously. The computers allow them to print their own copy, rather than sending their handwritten copy to the printer. This permits them to be more responsible because they take the blame for any errors. The staff enjoys the help of the computer and is very grateful for the use of it. The Paw Print is defined as a special way of pointing out unique individuals who have made contributions to Gunderson or to the Community. This shows them that Gunderson does realize and appreciate their involvement in the school. The Paw Print staff should be very proud of their work and dedication to Gundersons newspaper.

HELLO I'M a Senior

The Name's the Same

Hello, I'm . . . A SENIOR! This was the message that greeted all underclassmen on the first day of school.

About two hundred seniors were emblazened with nametags. Jamey Kilgore and Mary Anderson were up until 11:30 the night before mass producing the nametags. A friend of Jamey's from Leigh High School gave her the idea. "She was the only one at Leigh to wear one, and it was my idea to make them for everyone." proclaimed Jamey Kilgore (Sr.). "It showed the freshmen who's boss!" said Patricia Quon (Sr.). Others thought the idea was funny. Guys tended not to wear the tags as much as the girls saying it was uncool. However, with two hundred students participating, the first day of school, 1985, was definitely one of the coolest ever!

Does the intelligent, sensitive, understanding, romantic gentleman appeal to you? Or do you prefer the man with the strong athletic build, intense eyes, deep voice, and outgoing personality?

According to a recent Yearbook survey, most Senior women are attracted to men possessing qualities from both of the above examples. The survey asked the following question: What's important in a guy to you? The Senior women responded with five qualities each of what they individually felt were factors in determining one man to be more impressive than the next. The five top answers were:

1. sense of humor
2. personality
3. looks
4. intelligence
5. sensitivity

These answers ranged from the realistic (understanding, honesty, compatibility with girl, etc.) to the frivolous (the guy must have height — at least taller than the girl, a car, nice hair, etc.) Other qualities the Senior women looked for included self-confidence (but not arrogance), creativity, considerate, and a good dresser. Overall, the results showed that the majority of those polled believe that how a man "looks" emotionally, is much more important than how he looks physically.

Scoping

Hey Guys! . . . What do you want in a girl? Pretty eyes, a curving body, an outgoing personality, or maybe just nice legs. When asked what most guys want in a girl, the answers were quite suprising.

Out of a survey of several ordinary guys, most wanted a good personality, someone beautiful with intelligence, and who was rather outgoing.

Although I got the average jerk answer from a few guys "I want a playboy centerfold," As these kind of answers were few, most guys just look for a nice girl who knows what she wants.

When I asked a few girls what they thought of these answers, many wanted to know who and where all these guys were.

So all you guys don't be afraid to take a chance, let all those girls out there know you want more than just a good time.

Rapping

Have you ever tried to call a girl or guy you like? Well, it would be much easier to just hang up before they pick up the receiver, wouldn't it? Once you've both said hello, the conversation seems to go downhill. You're both at a loss for words, and if you want to ask the other out, that's even worse. This is a phone conversation between Mike and Lisa. (Note: Any resemblance to situations past or present is strictly coincidental.)

Hello?

Is Lisa there?

This is Lisa.

Hi! This is Mike.

Hi Mike.

How are you?

I'm O.K., how are you?

Fine.

PAUSE . . .

So . . .

PAUSE . . .

So . . . I was wondering . . .

Yeah?

Um . . . are you doing anything Friday night?

I don't think so, why?

There's a party at John's. Do you want to go?

Sure!

Okay . . . Well, I guess I'll pick you up around eight.

Sounds good to me.

O.K. . . .

PAUSE . . .

Well, I guess I'll see you later.

O.K. . . . Bye!

Senior Best

The Senior Class of 1986 has always been known for the fact that it is a class of diverse individuals that are unified by a common bond of being the best. "I think that everyone wants to be the best they can be" a statement from Shanan Miller (winner of Biggest Flirt). The group of people on the following four pages are the best representatives of themselves and their category. Although they may not have felt deserving of such a title, the class of 1986 voted them in regardless. John Choi said "I didn't even think that I was going to be voted Best All Around" and many other "Best" winners felt the same way.

Bon Voyage, Adios, Ciao!

Gunderson High School is the present home for seven exchange students from various countries (Germany, Finland, Sweden, Yugoslavia, Netherlands). An interview with one of the randomly choosen students, Kerstin Kuwan, disclosed some realistic feelings about leaving home and traveling thousands of miles away to a foreign country.

Ques. What made you choose to come to the U.S.?

Ans. To learn English fluently and to have a new experience.

Ques. What is the most shocking realization about the U.S.?

Ans. People stick together in groups a lot by race. Very many people are on drugs. And the U.S. is strict in the way that most girls and guys only go out together if they are on a date not as friends.

Ques. What do you miss most about home?

Ans. Chocolate and my friends.

Ques. Would you like to return?

Ans. Yeah, to study and travel across the U.S.

Cramming

It's the night before the test you have been putting off for days, even weeks. You've pleaded with the teacher to extend it just one more day. It's now time to face the fact that that carefree weekend you had, you are now suffering for. It's time to stop cursing the teacher and get to work. It's time to pull out your "CRAM-RELIEF" kit and start studying. Set up your full supply of chips, Coca-Cola, Cliff notes, and No-Doz. It helps to set the alarm clock every hour in case the No-Doz fails to keep those heavy eyelids from falling. The hours seem to go by slower and slower and the pile of notes seem to increase. You start with an open mind that you are going to accomplish this task and never by irresponsible again to avoid this situation. After hours of studying goes by, your studying goes from serious reading, to skimming pages, to just reading page numbers. You're finally finished and with two hours to spare before it is time to get up. You crash into the covers and two hours, seem like two minutes. That piercing sound of that stupid alarm clock goes off and with enough Will-Power you will stagger out of bed. The best bet is to pull the covers over your head and become deathly ill so your mother calls in your abscence and you have the whole weekend to study.

Senioritis

sen.ior.i.tis (sen.yor.i.tis) n. 1. a common affliction of the high school senior, rarely fatal.

Senioritis is a disease that shows up quite commonly on campus at Gunderson. It usually strikes slowly, so that the afflicted student doesn't even realize he has the disease until it is too late.

Symptoms of senioritis are: unwillingness to do homework, a feeling that the last semester doesn't really matter.

Senioritis strikes most students in various degrees of severity. Only the strongest academically are able to overcome it until the end.

One of the many causes of this illness is being accepted to college. Since universities only look at first semester grades, there is an incredible temptation to just lay back during second semester. For students not planning on college, they feel that as long as they graduate, who cares what their grades are?

There is only one cure for senioritis: graduation. However, this can also give way to a new affliction: lif-itis. Symptoms are the same as for senioritis, only they are applied to jobs and life in general.

Senioritis can also be caught by juniors and sophomores. Freshmen get their disease, freshmenitis, but it has, nothing to do with grading and behaving like freshmen.

Each year there is always a small, elite group of students that separates itself from the rest of the class. Likewise, the class of '86 is no exception. The intelligentsias are well known throughout the class. As most can guess, their initials include M.B., C.H., S.S., S.G., and etc. — just to name a few. Nevertheless, the "Who's Who" award is not only dedicated to distinguish those who are accelerated in academic subjects, but also to those enrolled in fine arts and other vocations.

The process of selecting the 'Who's Who" started from a letter sent by the yearbook staff (me) to teacher(s) in each department, where they were requested to nominate two seniors, usually one male and one female, and preferably from the AP or advanced class in that department. When more than one teacher was involved with the outstanding students, each teacher nominated two candidates first, and then met to select the final ones for the honor.

And, here, the excellence of class of 1986 is represented

Picture hundreds of eyes staring at you, no matter where you go. You try to be inconspicuous and try to hide, but this only arouses more attention. You absolutely are going to D-I-E! The only cause of this could be — your birthday!

At Gunderson, this is typical. It's called how to make your friend die of total embarassment. No longer can your birthday go unnoticed, leadership has seen to that — birthdates are now posted in the forum. This results in unwanted overt displays of affection by friends. Who are intent on wrapping lockers in paper with extremely large ribbons. The sending of cookiegrams, in which the cookie will not fit into your locker. Singing telegrams sent by your buddies to thoroughly embarass the unprepared birthday person! But the most common of these are balloons and signs. These prove to be the most effective. Accomplishing both the acts of making your birthday public knowledge and absolutely embarassing you. Although suffering through the humiliation you must admit that you do enjoy the attention just a little.

So remember while bearing the ultimate humiliation it only comes once a year!

Boredom

"Can you answer that question please John?"

"Uh uh, um"

How many of us find ourselves in that same situation daily? How many times do we find ourselves gazing out the window watching the clouds float by, recalling hot summer days.

You find yourself thinking back on last night's date, that special someone, that special event. Pretty soon your mind is miles away from the classroom and more likely stuck on your favorite tune, your favorite person. If it's in third or fourth period, your mind is usually on your favorite food. If it's on Friday, your thinking about what party your going to, who your going to see, and what you have to wear, if anything.

For some of us school just doesn't hold our interest. We would rather be on the beach with a coke in one hand and a walk man in the other. We watch the clock and count the holes in the ceiling. So next time school is just too much to bare, think of what's ahead or what has passed. Unfortunately though, "There ain't no cure for the school time blues."

Fantasies

Fantasies — Everyone has them! Whether they are funny, outrageous, farfetched or down to earth, everyone has one particular fantasy that excites them whenever they think about it.

"Someday I would like to become a wealthy executive of a huge company. Everyone would know me and respect me. I would be like Alexis Colby on Dynasty." — Laura Magallon

"My fantasy would be to go back to the 18th Century to live in Germany when there were many Dukes and castles." — Heidi Chartrand

"I would like to own an island in the Caribbean with 50 beautiful women on it. All in love with me, of course!" — George Kloczl

"I would like to be a time traveler and go into the past and future. It would be great to be able to bring people from the past into the present and vice versa." — Leslie Robbins

"To build a machine that creates beautiful, voluptuous women!" — Mark Jacob

"I would be filthy rich, live in a beach house on Malibu, drive a Ferrari and be totally tan ALL YEAR ROUND!!" — Ginger Mulkey

"My fantasy would be to travel all over the world and play golf on all the beautiful courses I could, for the rest of my lifetime." — Mark Mallin

Fantasies are found within each of us whether we realize it or not, so just kick back and enjoy them all!

Farewell

The end of the 1986 school year will mark the tenth graduation of Gunderson's Senior class. Every graduating senior will be on a level of anxiety unknown to the lower classmen and non-graduates. This anxiety can create the utmost of emotions. Amongst these will be happiness, excitement, sadness and fear. What does all of this mean? We are overjoyed with the idea of getting away from the enclosing grips of High School and on to a new life in the adult world. However, through this joyous moment the realization that we may never see some of our friends again is both frightening and sad. How do we say good-bye?

We can hug and kiss and laugh and cry with each other or we can write our goodbyes in our memorable yearbooks. Yet, not saying goodbye at all may be the best solution. This would allow us to feel that maybe, just maybe we really could see each other again. If not, our memories that are locked in our hearts, in our minds and in the pages of this yearbook will be a reminder of the fun times we have shared with each other. So saying good-bye may not mean that we will forget the fun times in High School or the friends we made. Instead, it might act as a closing of our teenage years in life, a closing that will never be forgotten.

Advisors

Do you attend advisory just get a donut? Do you enjoy going there to socialize for fifteen minutes? Believe it or not, advisory is not just a blessing to those who want to sleep in late. Advisory is a very important part of the school's curriculum. Students learn about various opportunities given to them by colleges and other organizations.

There are pro's and con's when considering the class-level change in the advisory system. Students learn about scholarships offered to them, various school activities and their current graduation status. Having people in the same class level advisory makes it easier on the advisor to give information in the time alloted. However, the change has presented some problems for the students, especially seniors who have had the same advisor for three years. This sudden shift to a new advisor hurt the relationship once shared between advisor and advisee. Senior year is very crucial if one is planning on attending a college or is worrying about how one is going to graduate. Some students are happy about the change. Kim Dang said, "It is for the better." However, other students feel quite differently. "Going to advisory is only useful to keep me out of aim," said Tim Lord.

A DEDICATION TO EXCELLENCE

Your heart is pounding — each breath you take becomes harder. Your legs ache and feel like rubber, but from somewhere deep inside a burning determination pushes you on. That's Grizzly pride. If you have ever felt that pride, then you can call yourself an athlete — a Gunderson athlete. Through this dedication and hard work our persistant Grizzlies have earned the right to call GHS the dominating force of the Santa Teresa League.

Gunderson proved this feat by having over ten teams take first or second place in League play. Among these teams were the Varsity Football Team, Wrestling Team, and both Boys and Girls Basketball Teams. We dedicate this section to all those athletes and fans that have made Gunderson's Athletic Program outstanding, and have heightened Gunderson's name to where it stands today — AT THE TOP!

In Excellence

It's back! After four years it's finally back! Coach Takagi say's, "This is mostly a building year". She hopes that next year's field hockey will be more familiar to Gunderson. The object of the game is to move a hard ball with a stick, trying to score in the opposite goal.

"In this sport you have to be aggressive and competitive. It's just a lot of fun" explains Marlo Porter.

Michelle Yuhas says, "It's a new experience and it's a good experience too, because it requires teamwork, and when we're on the field, it's a sense of being a member of something special."

"Most of all this year was just a lot of fun", says Kelly Minero.

"I'm a mother, and I'm glad that my daughter is participating in a sport that's come back to Gunderson."Happy Floyd.

Coach Takagi hopes that the student body will give as much respect to field hockey as they do to other major sports.

$H_2O$ Polo has sinking season.

Lap after lap, yard after yard, shot after shot, is what one saw at water polo practice everyday after school. Although the team lost many of its players after graduation last year, they still had high hopes of victory in their '85 season. However, with their 0-8 record, it is obvious that their expectations did not come true. Yet, they have not lost their spirit or dedication to the sport. The commeraderie between these players is overwhelming.

The Water Polo Team this year is basically made up of newcomers. There is great hope for the team in the years to come.

"The 1985 Grizz has come farther than any other team in the history of Gunderson Polo. Most of the team had never seen a water polo ball before, let alone play the game. With workouts twice a day, the team was ready for league play. The team had high hopes of a victorious season, however, this just didn't happen. Team work and unity were the basic fundamentals of this year's team. I hope it continues." — Dave Prolo

The Grizz Polo Team has high hopes for next year and looks forward to a more promising season in future years.

The girls have spirit.

Up at 5 and in the gym by 5:30 and then in class at 8:15. Sounds grueling, huh? This is what the girls on the swim team do twice a week. During morning practice they're in the water by 5:30. After school they practice 2:30-4:30. With all the weight training and hours they put in, it is no wonder why they're disappointed with the season. The team experienced a less than fantastic season. They lost more meets than they won. Senior Carol Bauman says, "This year we've been up against really tough teams. It will be even harder for the team next year, because its losing some of its best swimmers." Nevertheless, the team is bubbling with spirit and enthusiasm! Many of the members (mostly seniors) displayed their spirit with their official "AS-WAS" T-shirts. They wore these on the day of a meet. Only the team members know what this mysterious phrase means, but it has definitely been noticed around school. When senior Catie Brennan was asked what it meant she simply said, "Nevermind!"

To Success

This was one of the most successful teams in Gunderson history. "The team was young but very talented," said coach Rudy Montenegro. Montenegro and his assistant Roque Matagulay guided this team through its season's accomplishments.

The varsity boys team went through a rebuilding year. The team went into League Finals tied for 4th place with Willow Glen. At League Finals the team ran the best race of the season finishing 3rd, beating Leland and Willow Glen for the first time in 3 years. The team won the 4th and final spot to qualify to Regionals where they placed 11th.

Individually, two runners made first team All-League, Sr. Harry Headrick (3rd, 15:29) and Soph Eric Woodland (6th, 15:47). Harry's time ranks him 8th on the Gunderson varsity all-time top 10 list. Eric's time was the fastest ever run on the Hellyer course by a sophomore. Harry was the only team member to qualify to C.C.S. Finals. The rest of the team competing at League Finals were Soph Ray Salmon 17th, Sr. Jerry McCann 18th, Sr. Dan Chavez 22nd, Jr. David Jensen 28th and Jr. Mike Curl 34th.

The girls varsity team rewrote the Gunderson record books by leaps and bounds. The team experienced early success as they won the Crystal Springs Invitational and placed 3rd at the National 2-Mile Postal Meet. The team was 2nd at League Finals and qualified to C.C.S Finals by placing 4th at Region II Finals. At C.C.S. the team finished 6th in the most competitive year in C.C.S. history.

Individually, Sr. Laurie Chapman did what nobody else in C.C.S. history could do, went undefeated all year. She was

Acing Thru The Season

The Girls Tennis Team Sets New Record

WHAM! BAM! The Girls Tennis team really showed off their abilities to the MAX. To begin with, it broke the school record with a 14-5 score. Last year was a building year for the team, so its performance was not exceptional. However, 1985 was the season that enabled the Gunderson girls to display their skills. The 1985 team captured the most wins in the history of the school. "Our team has done so well this season because we all play well together and have had lots of fun!" said René Jones. The team finished third in the league.

Even though this was only his second year of coaching, Coach Kanter had built the team into a tough, fighting competitor. As Michelle Mallen commented, "Mr. Kanter is always willing to help anyone at anytime. He's a great coach and makes the sport fun. " The team was headed by the top singles players, Shikha Ghosh and Sophie Lambrechts, and top doubles players, Julie MacPhie and Nicole Bice. Even then, the team was not expeted to earn any title, such as CSS; Leland had always been the strongest team in Northern California. Because the team consisted of mostly sophomores, Coach Kanter felt that next year's team will be stronger than ever. Patricia Quon, who had been on the team for three years, agreed by saying, "This year has been our best year ever because the team spirit has been so much stronger than before. Each member is constantly improving her skills, so next season will definitely be ours!" WAY TO GO, GIRLS!

GHS Checkmates C.C.S.

It's an exasperating prestigious sport which only the people with dedication can play. Chess has been at Gunderson for six consecutive, exciting years. Coach North looks forward to another breathtaking championship season in the game of Chess. "Next year the team will be losing many seniors" he says.

Gunderson Chess Team competed in the Santa Clara Valley High School Chess League. The competition included such opponents as Independence, Bellarmine, Gilroy and Live Oak High Schools.

With three championship seasons to Gunderson's credit, the team awaited another victorious year.

For State Competition

Do you like to travel? Meet new people or win awards? Then the Speech team is for you. The 1985-86 season began in October and State competition in March with the season ending in June with national competition. Gay Brasher is Gunderson's speech coach and for every other school in San Jose Unified. This year the speech team traveled to the University of Pacific, Cal Poly, and the University of California at Berekely. When the students leave for weekend tournaments they stay in hotels and then go to the campus for competition. This is a great way for learning about campus life.

There are many different events students can compete in. One can be in one event or many. There are ten individual events with debate and student congress. Karla Williams, a sophomore, said why she enjoyed speech, "I enjoy meeting new people and it's also great for your self-confidence."

Many scholarships are offered to top speech students. While at the tournaments students can win trophies and at club contests there are cash prizes. Speech is a great experience and it is something you can use for the rest of your life.

Mean Season
Grizzlies go . . . 9-0

SOLID! This is how the '85 varsity football team should be described. Not only did the team have a great offense, but they had an awesome defense. This year the defense deserves as much credit, if not more than the offense. The Grizzlies finished the regular season with a 9-0 perfect record.

"The Gunderson football team was considered a veteran squad. Our high scoring Grizzlies were led by senior co-captains Freddie Morales, John Choi, Dan McIntyre, Steve Appleby and Rick Willson. (All of whom were chosen 1st team All-Leaguers) John became the first Grizzlie running back to gain 1,000 yards in a season (1,105). Freddie was chosen the Most Valuable Player in the STAL.

In addition to Big Dan on the offensive line, the Grizzlies were led by Seniors Zack Culcasi, Randy Witt and Mike Schoening. Scott Payne, Jeff Wind and Ralph Coulter (All seniors) were outstanding in their defensive plays.

A large nucleus of "young" Grizzlies should fill in the vacant spots caused by graduation. On offense the 1986 version of Grizzlies will count heavily on the talents of returning 1st team ALL-STAL receiver Albert King. Jerry Barajas, Ed Wise, Luis "Freight train" Gomez and Robert Fryhoff should provide capable leadership in moving the ball for the Grizzly machine. Defensively, the Grizzlies will count on returning starters Jeff Snyder (1st team ALL-STAL), Scott Kilgore, Nels Fiksdal, Sean Tate, Greg Burnett and Jerry Barajas. The defensive line will have returners Fryhoff, Gomez and Rod Morimoto.

The coaching staff has truly enjoyed working with such fine young men. It was an experience we will all cherish and never forget."

The Grizzlies Claw Their Way Towards a Winning Season!

SENSATIONAL! That describes this year's J.V. Football team! They started off the pre-season with a loss to Santa Teresa but finished off strong with an overall pre-season record of 3-1.

The coaches this year were Vince Charleton, Jim Woods, and Fred Zaccheo. When asked about the team Coach Zaccheo replied, "The team has good potential and a lot of good athletes." Coach Woods feels that the sophomores "are strong and have a lot of athletic ability and they'll make good varsity players next year." He also feels that the freshmen, "Are taking a full part on the team and show a lot of promise for next year."

The team captain for the offense was Mark Alsobrook. The team captain for the defense was Sean Price who, when asked about the team replied that, "The team is led by their hard-hitting, hard-working defense." Among the outstanding players were Mark Alsobrook, Joey arena, Tom Holley, Sean Price, Rico Rodriguez, Eddie Santos, Frank Santos, and Mark Wohlford.

They were an extremely strong team and they played excellently! They finished out the season with an overall record of 5-4. Although they suffered some losses, the numbers don't reflect exactly how SENSATIONAL the 1985 J.V. Football team really was!

Grizzlies Slam into Second

They were nervous and tense, this game would decide who would take second place. They had practiced hard all season and they knew what was at stake. Five minutes before the game, the power goes out and all the hard work will have to wait for next week. A week later the Grizzlies defeated the Chargers, the power outage had only given the Grizzlies more confidence, and they tied for second place. "I think we had a lot of team spirit, we all supported each other, we had a great season and we achieved a lot," said player Paula Sarrett.

Grizzlies Obtain STAL Championship

The Gunderson Varsity Wrestling Team had a very outstanding season. With an incredible 8-0 league record, the Grizzlies dominated the STAL. The Grizzlies captured a First in the Branham Tournament, First in League Dual Meet and a Second in the League Championship Tournament.

"The teams greatest accomplishment this year was beating Lincoln in our Dual Meet against them. Of all the years I've been wrestling at Gunderson, we had never beat Lincoln. One thing I wanted to do before I left this school was to destroy them. We finally did it this year, and just before I leave." — Doug Johnston

The team had a remarkable showing at The League Championship Tournament. Eight of the teams wrestlers placed in the top 3 places, with Doug Johnston, Scott Fey and Scott Kilgore all winning their individual divisions. Scott Fey and Doug Johnston, both were named All-Tournament in the Firecracker Tournament. Both Scott and Doug will be Graduating this year.

The Grizzlie team looks forward to next year's season with returning wrestlers such as Phil Burnett, Scott Kilgore, Jason Arndt, Tim Freitas and Jim Yumen. The team hopes to dominate the league as well next year.

Injuries take their toll

Despite a lot of injuries, the varsity boys soccer team had a good year, with a record of 5-3-2.

The team had a lot of young players, with five starting sophomores. Coach Campbell hopes this will mean a very strong team for the next couple of years.

Tom Ploywright (goalkeeper) had an injury which hurt the team in a few games, but Eddie Fardos helped make up for that with an outstanding year.

Girls Score Their CCS Goal

The varsity girls soccer team had a very good season, and their future looks promising. The girls main goal this year was to make it to the CCS playoffs. Their record of 10-3 and their second place standing in the STAL brought them to their goal. The Grizzlies had a tough building season and should be top contenders for the CCS championship next year. The girls over-powered almost all teams in their league, but Leland, their top rivals, gave them a tough battle. Gunderson has a top team and should be able to take the league by storm next year.

Gunderson's boys J.V. soccer team had a good year despite a few disappointing games. Outstanding players were Mike Sosa and goalkeeper, David Sharky. Cory Swint's injury hurt the team.

For the first time the J.V. team was at the top — all by themselves. With an outstanding record of 9-0-1 they had a truely spectacular year. Beating Leland for the first time in at least three years was the team's major accomplishment. Enjoyed by everyone. But it wasn't easy getting there, it took a lot of hard work and determination by everyone on the team. Coach Jeanne Mestressat was really proud of her team, calling them, "full of heart, desire, and spunk — never willing to give up or let down, the team had a lot of character." "The teams success was attributed to an all around strong effort from everyone on the team, supported by a great deal of parential support," said coach Mestressat. The team learned to work together, passing communicating, and became a "team."

Best Season in GHS history

The Gunderson Varsity Basketball team had the best season ever in the history of Gunderson. The team was successful in winning nine season games and only lost one. Gundersons' Varsity Basketball team had the most wins ever. The team also had their first win against San Jose in school history. The team also set a record for most total points in a single game. The crowd as well as the players were very enthusiastic towards the teams success. The stands were always full of cheering fans. One spectator, a senior here at Gunderson, said "It's hard not to be enthusiastic when you are always sitting on the winning side."

The team starters were Sean Sykes, Charlie Eccles, Darren Adams, John Krupp, and Mike Ammerman. Sean Sykes set a school record of most points scored in a single game. The team was very successful and should be rewarded for the continuous effort. Some of the team wins include the Blossom Valley Classic, the Fremont Sunnyvale Tournament and we all cheer them on to victory as they make it to CCS semi-finals defeating Westmont Thirty-five to Thrity-three after triple over time.

Grizzlies Battled their way to CCS

"Hey, did you go to the Varsity Girls' Basketball?" "No! Were they good?" "They were hot, you should have been there! That's where all the action took place." All the players had a rad season!"

With League victories over Willow Glen, Leland, San Jose, and Lincoln, the seventh ranked Gunderson Girls' Varsity Basketball team moved into second place in the STAL.

The team had the best season in Gunderson History from a win/loss standpoint. The team finished the regular season 16 wins & 4 losses over all and 9 & 1 in the STAL.

Coach Doug Ramezane said that "We played many good teams this year in League play; Pioneer, Leland and Willow Glen were the most challenging.

The team was led by the scoring all around play of Jill Sperry, Rhonda Jacobs and Kelly Harrington. Tami Rudd did an outstanding job defensively and Susan Shapiro, Gretchen Shoemaker, and Michele Asselin were there when needed.

Jill Sperry, soph., averaging over 10 points per game in League Play, led Gunderson with 23 points in its last victory over Lincoln.

Going into League Play, Coach Doug Ramezane commented, "Jill Sperry and Kelly Harrington had to score, but we've had a consistent effort."

The Grizzlies beat Willow Glen in the League Opener 45-36, mauled tenth ranked Leland 73-44 (as Sperry tossed in a season high 25), and crushed San Jose 51-27 (with 18 from Harrington).

Fourth ranked Pioneer and first place in STAL. Pioneer was the only STAL team to have beaten the Grizzlies.

STAL had three teams, Pioneer, Leland, and Gunderson, in the C.C.S. top ten.

"We've (STAL) always been strong in Girls' Basketball," said Coach Doug Ramezane. The team played consistently in C.C.S. against Mountain View. The Grizzlies won C.C.S. by scoring 56-51. The team was led by Jill Sperry with the scoring of 22 points, Rhonda Jacobs 12, and Kelly Harrington 10.

The JV Girls and Boys Basketball Teams

. . . "This year in sports, Gunderson J.V. boys and girls Basketball came first in their league, both teams were 10-0. This is Mr. Radio for sports." "Jill did you here that? They just announced that Gunderson did great this season, yea, they had an exciting game against Pioneer, the girls went into two overtimes, Kelly Floyd came in the second overtime, stole the ball, made a basket and the Grizzlies were on their way to win the game with only a couple of seconds left. And the boys game against Pioneer, they were too overconfident in winning so, we weren't making some important shots it was a close game, and the next time they played Pioneer we proved to be better to win 49-18." Jennifer Landers a songirl at Gunderson said this about the boys games. "Their very exciting to watch and I'm glad I was able to contribute my spirit, and hopefully the boys will do their best to be the best."

SWIM!

Swim. Some people think of swimming as just something to do. But to be on a swim team, a person must be willing to flop into a pool in the early morning, late at night, or anytime that he is told to. And to dive in at 5:00 a.m. takes dedication, because at that time, any normal person would be in bed. Where a normal person would sleep, these guys just . . . SWIM!

Grizzlies have a ball
High hopes for CCS

What do you think when you hear the words knuckle, fast curve, and screw? These are all certain ways a pitcher can throw a ball, but the teams who went against the Boys Baseball Team discovered a more intense meaning for the words. Gunderson's Boys Baseball Team has done very well this season. They have shown astounding effort, as well as great enthusiasm. Many of the team's veterans, like Rick Wilson and Freddie Morales are leading the team to victory, in hopes of making it to CCS.

The 1985-86 Girls Varsity Softball Team had an excellent pre-season which continued into League play. The team consists of strong players including some Sophomores. They faced some difficult teams, and some games went into extra innings, but they pulled through and proved that Gunderson is still the best!

HEAD'S UP IN '86

J.V. Softball and Baseball Slide into First

The 1986 J.V. Softball Team has one outstanding quality, which is talent. The team consists of eighteen members, all of which are fairly young. This striving team is made up of ten Sophomores and six Freshmen. One name added to the team roster this year was the team's new coach, Alison Takaki. Coaching Girl's Softball here at Gunderson is a new experience for her. When asked about coaching Girl's Softball, she expresses that, "The job will be a challenge and a new experience, but working with the girls will be a lot of fun." Some of the team members have had previous experience by participating in Bobby Sox, and other local club teams. The team's strength and skill, that they have been working on throughout the season, should be apparent by midseason. The girls not only strive for excellence, but have fun as well.

The 1985-86 J.V. Baseball Team is a well-balanced team. Rico Rodriquez and Sonny Lean lead the defense. They are a hard team to beat, especially with the "rabbit", also known as Scott Inglheadt, and Bruce Santo hitting about 500. Having dominated for the last three years, the rest of the League is starting to catch up with the Grizzlies; however, they will never catch us. Some of the hopefuls for next year are Freshmen Collin Boyd and Randy Schriefer. Both of the teams catchers are Freshman so, they will be competing for years to come.

KEEPING THE BIRDIES HIGH,
THE BADMINTON TEAM GAINS OPTIMISM

"Hit the birdie! Hit the birdie! WHY can't you hit the birdie?" "I want you to call it something else . . ." As badminton becomes more recognized, so does its popularity; more people have tried out for it this year than any other year. "I want to play for school, but it's very competitive," said Churchill, who played boys' first single. Badminton is the only co-ed sport in the STAL. It's also the only sport where a home team provides treats, such as popsicles, for its opponent team after each match. Contrary to what most may think, badminton is a challenging, yet fun sport that involves the great agility of both the mind and the body. While shots vary immensely in pace, length, and angle, the shuttle has been timed at about 100 mph off the rackets of top class players. "It's been really fun and I met one of my best friends here," said Senior, Betsy Kennedy.

The team was expected to do well this season despite the poor record of the year before. According to Coach Ramezane, the boys' team was definitely stronger, and the girls' more experienced. With almost half of the team made up of new, young players, who were quick learners and had shown talent in the sport, the team had confidence in making 1986 a good season. "With many good new players, I think we can do well this year," said Betty Lee. If the new players stay with the team next year and help build it up, the Gunderson team might even have a chance at Gilroy and Willow Glen, who are both very good and the tops of the League. "Badminton is a fun sport, but it's not as easy as you think; it requires strategy. I hope to play again next year," said Yat-Hon Au, a Freshman.

BOYS TENNIS . . .
Tennis is their Racket!

Motivation best describes Gunderson's Boys' Tennis Team, coached by Mr. Mendez, who has been coaching for four years at Gunderson. A two and a half hour practice everyday helps the boys increase their skills and determination. During practice they compete with their own teammates to move up to a higher position on the tennis ladder, also to try and make the Varsity team, and to see whether they will be playing singles or doubles in upcoming tournaments. The tennis ladder gives everyone a chance to improve and increase their game. Eric Sasao, the number one player on the Tennis Team, shows a great amount of ability, which he has proved by being ranked number four in his age group, in boys singles, in Northern California. The entire team's morale is very high, and they work together, setting out to be the best they can possible be.

GRIZZLY GOLFERS

The Grizzly Golfers are back, better than ever! They came on strong showing their "awesome" ability on the course. Coach Rossman gave a great effort to the team through the whole year, making the season a success. He would like to say to the Gunderson Community: This year's Golf Team has had it's up and downs. We started out strong during pre-season, then tapered off a little during League play. Varsity returners Mark Mallin, John Russ, Chris Helling, and Stacy Brooks received help from first year Varsity members Mark Braga, Mark Sarkozy, and Greg Rohlinger. Mark Mallin, during the season was Low Medalist most frequently. Sharing Low Medalist the remainder of the time were Chris Helling, John Russ, and Mark Bragga. All in all this season has been a great success for all members an the coach. Hooray "four" the '86!

THE INTRAMURAL INITIATIVE

STARTING OUT STRONG

The purpose of Intramural sports is to give students an activity during lunch time. The Intramural program was Mr. Huffman's idea. The sports are seasonal, the year begins with volleyball, moves to basketball and finishes with badminton and softball. Everybody has a chance to play, no matter what level of ability. The coach of the entire program is Chris Carriere. She explains the rules and scoring, and sets up tournaments. "I've enjoyed doing it," says Chris about Intramurals, "The kids are fun."

This activity could expand greatly over the next few years and will probably become permanent, because it worked so well this year. It's fun, exciting, and a chance to meet friends, compete, and get in shape.

"Marvelous, simply marvelous!'

When people talk about a lady who is helpful, understanding and knows how to "TAKE THE LEAD," they are usually referring to Barbara Uyeda, the spirit advisor. Mrs. Uyeda has been the advisor for 8 years with the terrific help of Mary Moran, she has formed an exceptional spirit staff.

Like every year the squads attended "USA" spirit camp. What is "USA"? I was hoping you'd ask! USA (United Spirit Association), is exactly that, a United, Spirit, Association. It is nationwide, but Gunderson attended the University of Santa Cruz location. The squads were there from August 24, thru 27. The programs offered at USA stress the importance of cooperation between school groups and student body involvement. USA brings individuals together as teams to promote unity and that's what spirit begins with, UNITY. Kelly Weiler, a varsity cheerleader stated, "The whole year has been great, but camp is the best part!" Superior is the only way to describe the men and women who are the instructors at USA. The cheer, song and lettergirl squads go to USA with prepared routines. They perform and are evaluated on them. Along with those routines they are taught coordinated cheer-pom game-action patterns, a fight song, spirit promotion programs, and the USA camp cheer and dance. This year they were based on the theme, "Take the Lead". The groups are given four days to learn, perform, and be evaluated on the routines. That's hard work — they seem to do it with ease.

Camp isn't the only function the squads take part in. They are active in most school activities, such as rallies, games and many others. Being on Spirit isn't always fun and games, it is time-consuming, tiring and takes a great deal of responsibility. When asked how she feels about being Varsity Songirl, Holly Holland responded, "It may not be the best thing for some people, but I love it!"

"Marvelous, simply marvelous." There's no better way to describe the 1985-86 Cheerleaders. The girls have worked hard all year trying to make this the best ever. They received a "Superior Trophy" for the cheers they brought from home and the one learned from camp. When asked how she felt the year was going and if she was enjoying herself, Patty Lopes (head) responded, "It's jammin." All of the Varsity Cheerleaders seem to have this kind of enthusiastic attitude. Along with the cheerleaders, also promoting spirit, was the Varsity mascot. Stacey Drymon and the JV mascot, Kristina Mattey, were both awarded a spirit medal and a "spirit stick."

Varsity Spirit . . .

. . . keeps Gunderson "High!"

"Meeting in the Ladies Room", and "Oh Shiela", could be heard all throughout Gunderson as the Varsity Songirls developed and perfected their routines for camp. They were awarded a Superior trophy for doing such a stupendous job on those routines, as well as individual routines learned at camp. Contributing to their excellence outside of Gunderson, they are known to be sensational to watch at games and rallies. The girls work with untiring effort to acquire the skills they now have. Hard work + dedication = perfection, which is what the Varsity Songirls have shown.

"Being a member of the Gunderson spirit staff is an exciting privilege and so much fun!" said Tracy Pomerantz, a member of Gunderson's dance squad, otherwise known as the Lettergirls. Their perfection in their routine performed to "Fast Forward" at camp allowed the Lettergirls to receive a superior trophy. Along with the Songirls, the Lettergirls show a large amount of spirit and enthusiasm. They've shown complete devotion to their squad and from what people say, they really know how to "Take the Lead!"

Taking the Lead!
J.V. Spirit Leading the Way in '85!

Isn't it hard enough getting up on time for school? Well imagine yourself getting up at 5:00 a.m. for breakfast at 7:00 a.m. Not only do you awake at an unmerciful hour of the morning, but you must share your bathroom with at least thirty other girls. Well this is what the J.V. spirit squad experienced during the summer. The group of thirteen attended U.S.A.Spirit Camp from August 24, through the 27th, along with Varsity spirit squad. "Rallies are fun to plan, but the highlight of the year was camp, where our spirit squad was very unified," said Lisa Rettig, a J.V. cheerleader. This unified group dedicates a lot of time, effort, and enthusiasm into everything they do. The girls not only practice after school, but also have a fourth period spirit class, which is useful to plan and put in more practice time. "Spirit is great! We all work really good together, because we're so close. We have a lot of fun and we are really spirited," said Jenny Cook, a J.V. cheerleader. The 1985-86 J.V. Spirit squad consists of six cheerleaders, six songirls, and one mascot. There was only one returning Sophomore this year, Kristen Olsen, a J.V. cheerleader. These girls have a high energy level, which never seems to cease!

RALLIES

The Best Way to Promote Spirit!

"Go Grizzlies — Go Grizzlies!" This chanting rang though the gym as the Spirit Staff rallies brought individuals together and promoted school spirit. The rallies ranged from skits to spirit performances. They were quite an accomplishment for those who participated! We had several rallies, some better than others, but for the most part all of them were great! The Christmas Rally was a real treat. The Cheerleaders and Songleaders performed routines, and the "Cafeteria Girls" did their annual skit to the "Twelve Days of Christmas." Another fun-filled rally was the Homecoming Rally. The excited crowd anticipated who the new "Homecoming King and Queen" would be. When it was announced, everyone went Wild! The Sports rallies are always a big treat. The coaches get to introduce the players, and the captains get everyone Rowdy as they forsee the outcome of the upcoming Sporting event. We all knew that what the outcome was going to be, if your a Grizzlie it spells . . . VICTORY! Although some rallies were better than others, and some were better planned, Tina Zapata, (junior) felt they were all enjoyable. She added, "Planning a rally seems like hard work, but the spirit seems to handle it with ease!

"Let's party!"

That's what you hear while walking through the halls or sitting in the forum on a Friday afternoon from Gunderson students. Going to parties every Friday and Saturday night is always something to look forward to!", says some of the people who are classified as the "Partiers". Making new friends and seeing old ones is a favorite pastime for the "Socialists". See, everyone has their own idea of "Partying", so we've assigned them all into certain categories.

Besides the "Partiers", there are the "Jocks". A definition of a jock on a weekend is a guy who spends every weekend with his friends and does crazy things. They go to parties, go crusin', go dancing, or just have fun causing a little trouble. The rule "No Girlfriends Allowed", is highly stressed. "Having a girlfriend is okay, but it kind of takes away the fun of a night out with the guys," says some guys who are put into the "jock" category.

Opposite the jocks are the "Romantics". They are people who have the most fun spending the weekend with their girlfriend or boyfriend. Either alone or with another couple, they have nice quiet evenings watching movies with a blazing fire in the middle of Winter. Bonfires on the beach always make a night to remember.

People probably wonder what does "Everyone else" do on weekends? We put those people who spend their weekends working or doing homework in the "Preoccupied" group. "Weekends are a time for rest", states a student that is too busy to party on the weekends.

There are so many fun things to do on the weekends no matter what type of person you are. If you like backyard barbeques with your friends, or hittin' the beach with the gang and roasting marshmallows around a huge bonfire, or luxuriating in a bubble bath, or gazing at the stars on a beautiful Summer night with that special person. Anyway you put it, when that last bell rings on a Friday afternoon, excitement spreads through all the students. They're thinking about how much fun they are going to have or just "Thanking God it's Friday!"

— Sandy Mannini

So the "killer" party you were looking forward to got cancelled. There were no basketball, or football games that night. There wasn't even a dance to go to. You look at your watch, you find it's only 9:00 p.m., and your curfew isn't until 1:00 a.m. As a feeling of melancholy takes over, your first thought is . . . What am I going to do until 1:00? You finally decide to find a "hangout".

For the Juniors here at Gunderson, there are many different kinds of "hangouts". One place where many people go is to restaurants. Some of the most popular are Burger King, Round Table, Denny's and McDonalds. They enjoy the cozy atmosphere of sitting and conversing with some buddies. Another place where some students hang out is 7-Eleven. There the students can pick up munchies and play a couple of challenging video games.

Then there are the "mallrats". These are the people who hang out at Oakridge Mall. These people walk up and down the mall, play video games in the video arcade, and eat a meal or two at the many fastfood restaurants. So no matter what Juniors do on Friday nights, they can always be found having fun!

What did Juniors do on Friday nights? If there was a school dance, it was always first choice. At the dances, Juniors showed that they knew how to party! They dressed in clothes to fit the themes of the various dances. They could be found letting loose on the dance floor to the music played by either a D.J. or a live band. If they're not found on the dance floor, they could be found gathered in line to get pictures taken. "Getting pictures taken is almost as much fun as dancing itself because after the dance you still have the memories of the fun you had!" said junior Heather Heberling.

Whether it was a Welcome Back, Homecoming, Sadies, Hawaiian, or Farewell dance — the Juniors had a big turn out and really showed the school how to have fun!!

Have you ever sat home on a Friday or Saturday night? Or just had nothing to do? Why not go cruisin'! Juniors can be seen occasionally cruisin' down Blossom Hill Road, El Camino Real, Hicks Road, or Los Gatos on the weekends. They're usually the ones with the windows rolled down and the stereo blasted! When you go cruisin' you can almost always find a party, or some people that want to party! Some people cruise just to meet new people. Occasionally there are organized cruises in which people go to show off their cars or to race each other. So if you ever find yourself sitting at home with nothing to do . . . Go Cruisin'!!

It may surprise you what teachers do on the weekends. They are away from the school but they can't forget about the students. They have stacks of papers, essays and tests to grade and go over. Besides grading, they have the responsibility of making up tests, classroom plans and notes. Now you begin to wonder, "Do they have a free time when they just let loose? If so, what do they do?" Well we asked some of the teachers around campus. Most of them spend time with family or close friends or just try to relax. It is hard to think of your teachers as people who have families and their own lives instead of just Mr. Jones, the art teacher, or Mrs. Vallone, the history teacher. Some like to go shopping with family and friends, just like students. So the next time you bug a teacher about not grading a test or paper over the weekend, remember you wouldn't want to spend your whole weekend grading papers.

INVITATION

. . . Academics, a challenge, a necessity and a prevailing issue at Gunderson. Out of the 1951 students who attend Gunderson there is a large percentage of students who are disciplined enough to maintain straight A's. In fact, some students have never received a B before. This accomplishment is both honored and approved of by the faculty and the administration here at this school.

This faculty stresses a good education and believes in what they teach. There are several courses for both the underachievers and the excellerated students. These opportunities for the students offer great rewards . . . acceptance to colleges, recognition and a knowledgeable mind. However, these rewards may only be achieved through hard work; the invitation to success.

— Laurie Chapman

LOOKING BACK

History

What's new in History this year? (or should we say what's old!) In the Social Studies Department. There are 15 teachers teaching 1800 students. In the many fields of History, every grade level is taught something different.

Freshman are taught World Cultures. Sophomores take an introduction to Social Science. Juniors are required to have a U.S. History course. Seniors are offered American Government, Phycology, Socialogy, and Consumer Economics.

Also, several honor classes are offered to each grade level to those college bound students.

In years to come, a new state law says that all students will be required to take an Economic course.

Something to look forward to! The History Department is adopting all new books for all grade levels. We should be seeing them very soon!

On Saturday, November 16, 1985 proud and smiling students from Gunderson marched into Piedmont Hill High School. They marched along with 30 other teams. The day started at 7:45 a.m. and ended at 3:00 p.m. Nervous and anxious all the students went from classroom to classroom taking various tests. After completing all tests they came to the "Super Quiz." Super it was! Gunderson tied for first place with Gunn and Palo Alto High Schools at the score of 19. At the end of the day Gunderson ended up at eighth place.

There were some important individuals who received a medal in a certain category from Gunderson. Mark Barrera received a silver medal in the essay competition. Winning certificates were: Mark Jensen in Language & Literature, Mark Barrera in Social Science. Also Congratulations to Caryn Hashimoto, Ayako Utsumi, Deborah Thacker, Shahrokh Eshagoff, Steven Shonack, and Sharon Kimizuka for the great effort. Everyone is very proud of you!!

English

Nead a litle hilp with yur spiling? If you do, the English Department is just the place to go.

The new ninth grade reading class taught by a new teacher to Gunderson, Eden Walter has helped some freshmen improve their reading skills.

Honors programs are thriving. "I learned more in my English classes than any other class here at Gunderson. Mr. Pope, my honors English teacher my junior year, made me think about things I'd never thought of before. It was really fun!" said Senior student Paula Sarrett.

Gunderson's English Department has grown and developed in it's first decade of existence.

Believe it or not, more students are enrolled in advanced math classes. Students have taken a greater interest in math this year. Not only have there been additional math students, but an additional teacher. Gunderson is pleased to have welcomed Mrs. Narlesky to their capable staff. Though Mrs. Narlesky is often mistaken in the hall for a student, she reminds us of her status in the classroom. Senior Lindsay Goff said, "She makes math easier because she is more like one of us than a teacher."

Anna Sanfilippo

The Computer Age

THE COMPUTER AGE: "To Err is human but to really foul things up takes a computer." This sign can be found in the computer lab at Gunderson. Computers have become so popular that classes and teachers have been added to accommodate the demand. This year Mr. DiCristina and Mrs. Narlesky together with Mr. Beck and Mr. Fuller teach computers. Senior Mary Anderson said "There are more students than computers and next year they should get more computers or cut the enrollment down." Students showed their support and enthusiasm by selling M&M's in order to buy switch boxes to hook all the computers up to printers.

Business

For those of you who may be wanting to go into the business field, after graduation, then the Gunderson Business classes are for you. Some of the courses available to the students here at Gunderson are: Typing, Computer Keyboarding, Business Machines, Bookkeeping and so forth.

Talking with some of the students, most enjoyed the classes and feel there is a lot to learn. One student stated, "It's quiet, you get to push buttons, and it's giving me valuable experience for the future. Anthor, "It's kind of challenging to keep up with all the work Ms. Strand gives us, but it's also kind of fun." So for those of you that think you're cut out for the business world, then there is not a better place to start then at Gunderson.

BEGINNING TYPING

Beginning Typing, this is the place to start. Before one is usually allowed to advance to any class that deals with keyboarding, it is a requirement that you have taken at least one year of typing. And the place to start is in this class. In this class one learns the basic skills you need to know on how to operate a typewriter. So if you are planning a course in computers, you're going to be taking typing.

"No! Are you kidding! I still have about nine lab write-ups to catch up . . . "

"No, let's not do the lab. Let's create a bomb. He won't know . . . Give me those bottles . . . "

BOOM!

"Ooops . . . Oh-oh . . . "

"Do you have soap? Do you? Anyone have soap? Hurry! Hurry! My hands touched the fetal pig. I actually touched it!"

"Yuck! How gross!"

If these conversations sound familiar to you, then you've probably been enrolled in one of the science classes at Gunderson. Most can recall the anxieties before the lab book due dates, the "do-it-yourself" experiments in Chemistry, or the unbearable smell one has to endure during dissections. Nevertheless, these are all part of the "fun" offered by the Science Department. Because two years of laboratory science classes are required by the UC System, Biology and Chemistry were the most popular classes taken. The staff emphasized student awareness (where special students were given extra help) and critical thinking. The department also planned many new ideas as to meet the students' needs — one of which concerned the creating of AP science classes. "I believe that it would greatly further our education in the field of science as students." said Yat-Pang Au. In answering that, the staff has given thoughts on the possibilities of adding AP Chemistry and AP Biology next year.

BECK No. 2

As most have noticed, there were many new faces around the Gunderson campus this year. One of those fresh looks belonged to Mr. Brian Beck, who was also new in teaching. Beck replaced Mr. Bill Jay, who went back to school to work on his degree. This year Mr. Beck taught Life Science and ISIS.

Beck graduated from James Lick High School in 1978, and received his teaching credentials and degree from San Jose State University. Beck's interests include music, motorcycles, the beach, and working out by weights, running, and swimming. Beck had always wanted to teach since he was in high school. He feels that teaching science seemed more interesting compared to math or English.

Beck has been taking classes at State University, and he hopes to receive his administrative credentials soon. He sees his goal as being an administrator or a principal. Meantime, he enjoys teaching at Gunderson. "I like them (the Gunderson students)." said Beck, "They're good. Most of them behave and are on time to class." And as he always says to his students, "Relax, and don't be stressed."

UP WITH ART

On the rare occasion that a sign goes up in the forum, who gets the credit? Fine Arts! Okay, okay, so signs in the forum aren't all too unusual at Gunderson, but, the more the better! However, the Fine Arts Dept. is not simply art classes. Included are Photography, Stained Glass, and ceramics, for which there are several teachers. Names such as the Morans, Root, and Jones are often seen or passes from a fine arts teacher.

The Fine Arts Department is strong and stable, and with its help, student activities at Gunderson run smoothly.

Good job, Fine Arts!

— David Eckles

FINE ARTS

HAND MADE

Applied Arts

Applied Arts consists of Auto Shop, Foods, Agriculture, Woodshop, Metalshop, Clothing, and Drafting.

In each subject area, new lessons have been added on a regular basis. They continue to build the program.

The Applied Arts area obtained a VCR, monitor, and cart through school improvement funds. Classes will now have an opportunity to view very current films.

Auto, Foods, and American Family are popular classes as seen by their large enrollment.

Fanbelt?

"You're in the middle of Death Valley and the fan belt to your air conditioner breaks, problem? You don't even know how to open your hood. Solution: you should have taken Auto Shop!

The Auto Shop is one of the best in San Jose. It's goal is to teach students how to work on their cars without being afraid of destroying them.

Mr. Grove, with years of experience, has been teaching for a Decade.

There are two classes. A beginning class in which you learn where things are. Then there is the advanced class. Here they get set for a career and really get to know the car. But before you get into the advanced class, you have to of had a passing grade in Auto I.

The students say that "They love it", that "It's educational and fun" only 10% of kids out of 200 say they don't like it.

So if you're interested in opening your hood and fixing your fan belt in Death Valley, this is the place for you.

PARLEZ VOUS?

In the past ten years, the Gunderson Foreign Language Department has improved greatly. It now consists of six teachers: Mr. David Crockett, Mr. Gil Mendez, Ms. Pat Nakashima, Mr. Al Pastor, Miss Phyllis Regazzo, and Mr. Bill Torres. Spanish, French, and German are offered to the Gunderson student body. There are also Advanced Placement courses in all three languages. Grammar, composition, and conversation are not the only topics covered in language classes at Gunderson. However, students also learn about the customs of European countries. All Gunderson students have the opportunity to live the European customs each summer, when Mr. Pastor takes students on a fully guided tour of Europe. This year Mr. Pastor plans to take the Grizzlies to Africa as well as England, France and Spain. This trip will give the travellers a true taste of European culture. Many students take advantage of the chance to learn a second language. Said Shannon Adamson, junior, "French 3-4 is a lot easier the second time around!" The Gunderson Foreign Language Department has come a long way, baby!

Grizzlies In Europe

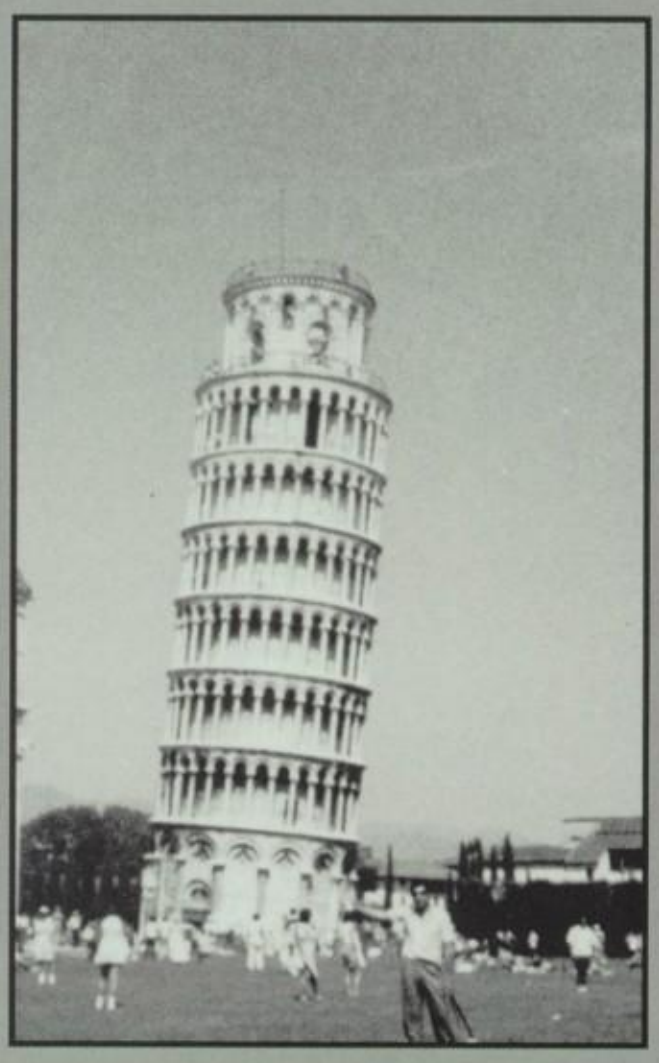
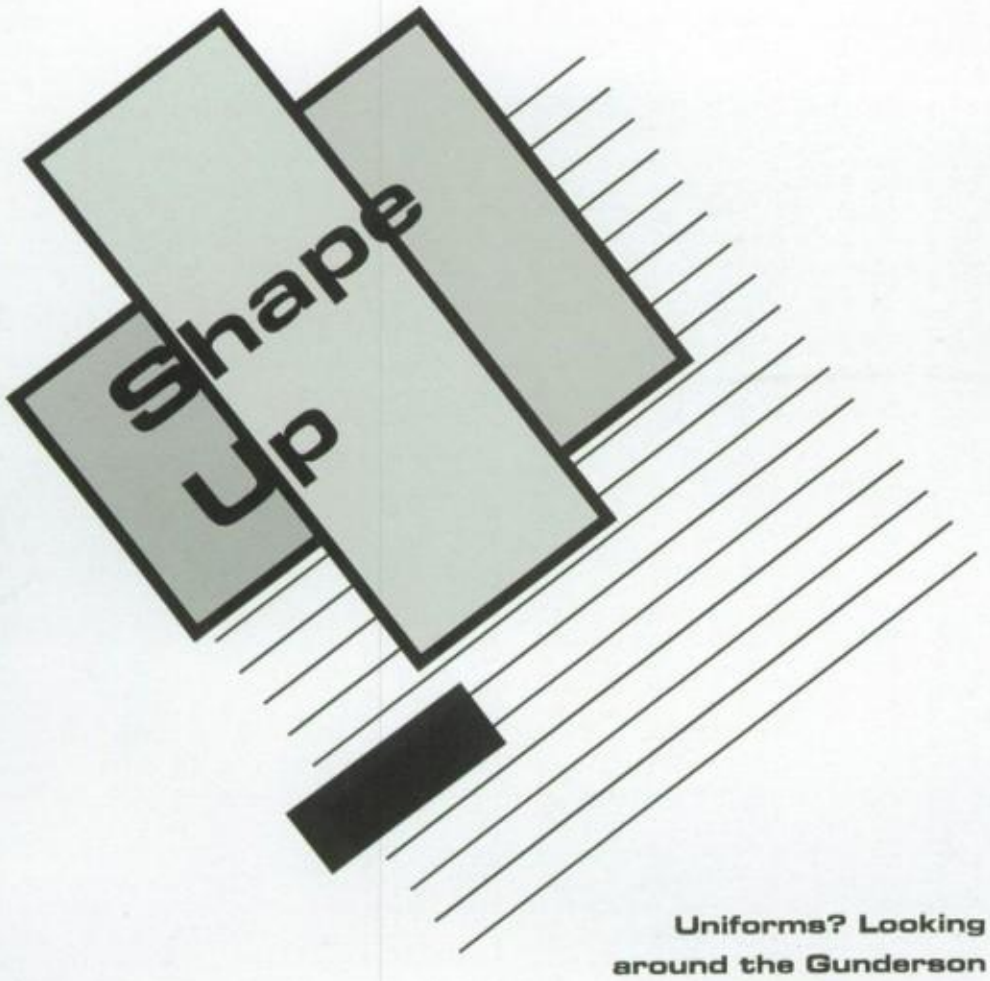
July 1, 1985

Dear Mom and Dad —

Sorry I haven't written, but the trip has been non-stop! We've seen so much in one week I can't even begin to tell you about it! There are forty of us traveling in a tour bus. Seventeen from Gunderson and about twenty-five from schools in other states. We've seen all the sights of Europe. In London, we saw the changing of the guard in the rain, in Amsterdam, we visited Anne Frank's house, we toured the Nymphenberg Palace in Munich, and in Italy we went to Rome, Venice, and Florence. We were in Italy for six days! My absolute favorite has to be the Eiffel Tower in Paris. We took an elevator all the way to the top and viewed the entire city. The weather has been so-so; we've had some rain, but the sun is finally coming out. Now it's off to Spain where we will hopefully see a bullfight. Mr. Pastor says we are "a great group" and Diane says she, "Doesn't want to come home." Neither do I! This is the best trip I have ever taken! I'll never forget it!

Cathy LaFleur





Uniforms? Looking around the Gunderson campus, you will notice something new. All students enrolled in a P.E. class will have to wear uniforms consisting of a white cotton t-shirt and yellow polyester shorts. How do the students feel about these uniforms? Michelle Griffin, a sophomore says, "I think it is junior high material. We should be able to wear our choice of P.E. clothes, especially because some people can't afford it." Another sophomore, Mark Rivera feels, "We're not a private school. Why should we have to wear uniforms?" Donna Meisenheimer also says, "I don't think the school has a right to dictate what we wear for P.E., as long as we change into something different than what we wear to school." These are the opinions of most of the students. Some feel it promotes school spirit, but it should not have to be a rule.

What is double zero P.E.? This is a class which starts at 7:00 a.m. and ends at 7:45. It is for students who are taking only one sport and need credit for their second semester or is also used for correcting poor attendance in regular class. The sports are running, volleyball, basketball, and badminton. They are all indoor sports because it is too cold at 7:00 a.m. to play outside. An anonymous student feels "It's tough to get up and go to school so early, but it's great not having a sixth period."

Vocational

Who are those kids who leave class before lunch? Chances are that they are in the Central County Occupational Center/Program, also known as vocational, where they learn skills necessary for an "entry level job." Vocational is a union of six school districts and serves about 2,500 students, 104 from Gunderson. Classes are taught in two ways, one would be during high school hours at the center or a special classroom, and the other would be in a combination of classroom work and on-the-job training.

The majority of the classes offered at vocational are worth 15 credits per semester, occupy three hours daily, and are available to seniors with a few restricted to the juniors. There are over 50 specialty courses offered, ranging from cooking to diesel mechanics. Vocational could be taken in the morning at 7:45 a.m. or in the afternoon at 12:45. It is a demanding program that teaches responsibility and skill, but is immensely enjoyed by all.

The Central County Occupational Center/Program also offers a job placement opportunity where they will provide assistance to the students who finish the course. "Voc provides me with a head start on the rest of the people," said senior Stacey Hein. This enables many students to pay their own way through college and to become self-supportive. Vocational offers many students opportunities to succeed out of the classroom.

Administration

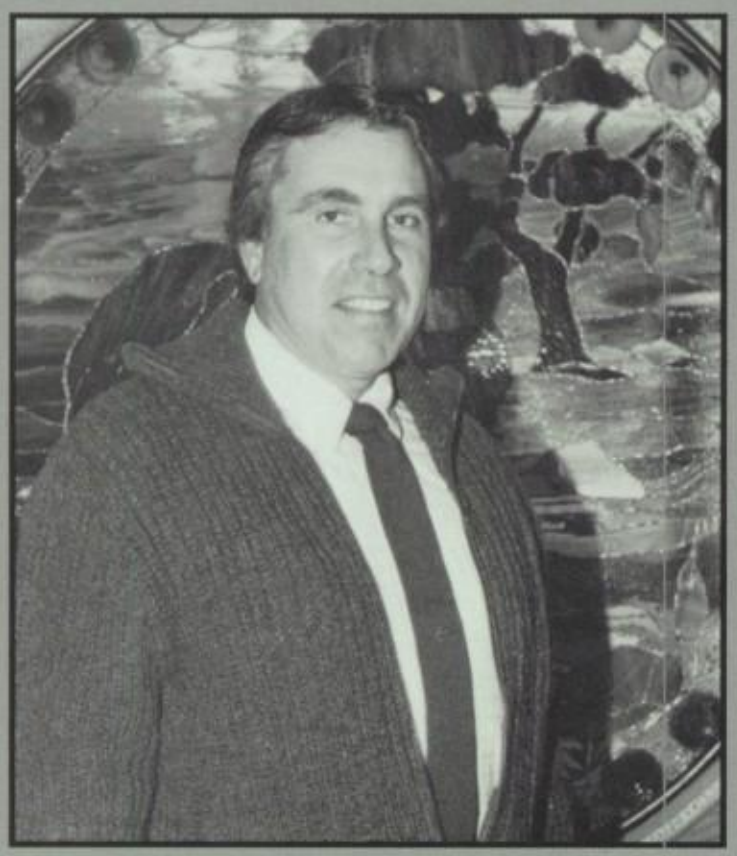
Back to Basics . . . Gunderson's Administration started off this school year with a wave of conservatism. The School Board has instituted more stringent rules and distributed student handbooks bringing many issues such as censorship and indecent behavior to the forefront of student-faculty relations. Resulting conflicts have painted a tarnished image of the administration in the eyes of the student body. However, Mr. Huffman and his staff are not unsympathetic to the students desires. Ms. Cabral worked towards regaining Senior activities such as the Senior picnic and Grad Night.

The AIM Program implemented throughout the district, has made it much more difficult for students to miss classes. There has been resentment towards the Administration resulting often in crude jokes and criticism. But in the eyes of most the program is justified.

Mr. Huffman, who is in his fourth year, has on the whole made Gunderson a school that strives for achievement in both academics and sports. Mr. McPeek, has provided many students with help, as far as academics. He has also drawn a stronger line on attendance in his advisory jurisdiction. The newest members to the Administration are Mr. Bell and Ms. Wadely. Mr. Bell as the new Vice Principal and Mrs. Wadely as a Guidance Counselor.

Mary Ann Barrous



Gunderson starts off its year with a new ring — Mr. Bell! He attended Stanford and participated in college track and field. He has taught at Pioneer, Leland and was vice principal at Willow Glen for two years. He coached award-winning football and track teams and had the opportunity to coach his daughter's track team at Leland. His hobbies are hunting and fishing, when he's not busy being an assistant to the principal at Gunderson.

PTSA BOOSTER CLUB

Parent Sponsor, "The Best"

united (yoo' ni tid) adj. Made or formed into one; made a unit of; consolidated; unified. The Gunderson Booster Club and PTSA made efforts in the '85-'86 school year to become more united. This year, the Booster Club and PTSA stressed unity between the two clubs as one of their main objectives. The two organizations made a float at Homecoming which read, "Scholarship + Sports," a summary of their efforts. One of the PTSA's goals for this year was to help make the LINK a better newsletter for concerned parents. Jackie Stovall, the PTSA's representative to the LINK, along with the rest of the staff, definitely achieved this goal. The PTSA also discussed such issues as open campus and desegregation. The Booster Club sponsored a contest challenging students to come up with a school song and hymn. The winner of the school song contest was Heidi Welch, and the winner of the school hymn contest was Heidi Chartrand. Each of the girls received a check for $100. Also, the Booster Club sponsored its Second Annual Casino Night, held on March 15. Together, these two very important parts of Gunderson High School have made it a better school for everyone: students, faculty, and parents.

Are you frustrated about your progress in school? Do you sometimes worry if you will graduate from High School? Gunderson has programs available to you if you are struggling in your high school years.

Independent Studies: Independent Studies is an opportunity to earn credits in most subject areas. According to Mr. Morales, Independent Studies teacher, Independent Studies is based on contracts signed by students — which state that the student will do one hour of homework each night.

Special Education: Special Education is a class for the student who is a slow learner. The teacher just takes extra time with the subject so the student can prepare themself to be able to live and succeed independently after they leave high school.

Opportunity Class For 9th Graders: The program is based on a self contained class where in which Social Studies, Math, English and P.E. are taught by Mr. Tomy, and Aide Mrs. Pat Burger. Much individual help is given and parent contact is encouraged.

Work Experience Education: The purpose of the Work Experience program is to incorporate classroom learning with actual on the job experience. Participants in this program have an outside job. The class is available only to juniors and seniors. A letter grade and variable credit is given on the basis of hour worked per week.

Support Staff

"Support Staff?" What Support Staff?" — Mrs. Kato, receptionist and member of the Support Staff.

The Support Staff may not be well known to all of Gunderson's staff and students, but they have proven to be a valuable asset to them. The staff helped people through the good times and the bad. College bound students could always look to Mrs. Yamaichi in the Career Center for guidance. Both students and teachers relied on the Unit secretaries, Mrs. Bean, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Uyeda, for assistance. The people in the cafeteria could always be counted on to serve food to scores of students during lunch. Janitors and gardeners always kept the school looking great. Campus Security officers, Frank Estrada, Gary Johnson, Janet Margolies, and Jon Johnson, were always there to keep the peace. These people worked hard everyday to make sure that Gunderson was operating smoothly. Overall the Support Staff at Gunderson has helped make it a very special school.

G. H. S. Finest

I walked down the long, dark corridor, my footsteps echoing off of the walls. The air was damp, and there was a light ahead. When I got to the room, Sergeant Gary Johnson looked at me. With an inquisitive look in his eye, he asked: "These questions aren't going to be hard, are they? Don't make 'em hard." My image of the tough-as-nails, rock-hard ruthless law enforcement officer shattered.

Gary is a member of the Gunderson campus security squad. He took the job as a supplementary income to his job as field training sergeant for the police. He describes his job at Gunderson as "easy, a piece of cake."

The biggest stereotype about his job is that everyone thinks that he is out to bust people. Not so. This guy is nice. However, like a good cop, his favorite TV show is "Hill Street Blues."

The one piece of advice that he would offer to all students is to stay in school. "Stick it out," he says, because many people go to college ten years after high school, wishing they hadn't waited.

In light of all this, Gary said that to know the real world, a person would have to ride on patrol with a policeman. "If nothing else, you'll know where all the Winchell's are."

Ex-Freshmen

What was the first thought that went through your mind when you picked up your second Gunderson schedule? "I said to myself, 'Well, I'm not a freshman anymore'," stated an anonymous source. "And what a relief!"

But what exactly did he mean by "Not being a freshman"? He has some decidedly odd opinions on the subject. "Well, not being a freshman means a lot of things. As a freshman, you're just getting used to the high school system. You can't believe all the freedom you have. You're shocked at the thought of having an open campus at lunch or an actual choice of the food you eat for lunch. It's so liberal after junior high, you can't believe it."

Driving Force

Another part of not being a freshman is that sophomores are generally much more mature. As a freshman, you're just ending your 'carefree age'. Suddenly, you're old enough to get a job, and the money looks worth the extra effort. You start to think, 'Well, if I don't get a job, it means no gas and no insurance. No gas, no insurance, no car. No car means I have to walk or ride a bicycle everywhere.' And walking or riding a bicycle feels pretty sad when you could be driving. Once you get a job, you start to become more responsible about everything. Everything looks more important, even grades. You start to think how, without good grades, you can't go to college. You start to realize that without a college degree, you usually can't get as high a paying job as if you did. Yes, we sophomores are very, very mercenary."

Growing Pains

"As a freshman, you'll do a lot of things to be accepted by your friends. As a sophomore you're more willing to be alone, especially if it means you'll be alive longer," states our anonymous source. "You'll give up the people who insist that if you don't smoke or drink, you're uncool. You say to yourself, 'Well, I can hang around a bunch of losers like these and be called cool, or I can find friends who don't rely so much on smoking to be cool.' So a lot of sophomores stop smoking and really calm down a lot. I did."

CLUBS

Why do people join clubs? There are many answers to this question.

Many people join clubs to fill their lunch time or after school. These are active people who enjoy being involved in everything.

A lot of people join clubs for academic reasons. Some clubs help prepare them for college and look good on their transcript.

Other people join clubs that hold a special interest for them. There are many different clubs like this such as Science, Math, and Drama just to name a few.

These clubs help enrich our school's climate and help support the students in many ways.

If you want to join a club or just find out about one, listen to the daily bulletins. These clubs are enjoyable and make GHS the best it can be!

The Years to Come

We are Freshmen as you can see, we have three years 'till our victory.

There will be more celebrating, we will have more fun, especially in our three years to come.

Now we are Sophomores but you can't see that we've changed to be the best we can be.

Next comes Juniors, we will have met many friends, some enemies too, but the fun never ends.

Soon we'll be Seniors, the victory is all ours, its not just mine, but its the whole class of '89!

Meeting new people as a Freshman:

Did you lose your friends when you left your Junior High? You probably thought you would not meet anyone as a Freshman. Now everyone has had a chance to mix and mingle to make new friendships. You may have found a new best friend or a new boy/girl friend! You might miss your old friends, but you have three more years to look forward to being with your new friends! Good Luck to the class of '89!

It was scary for some Freshmen on the first day of school because everybody was twice as tall as you were. Some Freshmen were pushed around by Seniors. Freshmen hate it when Juniors and Seniors take cuts in the lunch line. Some Freshmen were thrown in the trash can by them too. Freshmen were scared when they thought they were not going to find their old friends, and would be unable to make new ones.

Anyway Gunderson, we enjoyed our first year and are looking forward to the next three years.

thank once again for being there when i needed someone. I hope we'll have many more great times in the ~~future~~ future. I know we'll be great friends always. We're so alike yet so different you've really taught me to say what is think and don't let someone talk down on me. unconciously you have taught me not to take no - Fill it in yourself - from anyone if it is not well deserved.

I guess I've said just about all I can say. I love ya Southern. and wherever you or I go we'll always be together in one way or another.

Friends forever

HOW GOOD CAN A SENIOR LOOK?

Did you know that the average Senior in high school buys 45-60 copies of his or her senior portraits? That's probably the most copies of any picture of yourself you will ever buy, (unless you plan on being a film star)!

It would seem to follow, then, that you should look your very best, especially if 45 to 60 people will be remembering you from that portrait.

At CAP, we have spent several years devoting our energies toward making that portrait memorable. We really want to make you look your best. While we offer a large variety of backgrounds, drapes, and poses, what makes us better is our personal approach to your portrait. To us, you are never just another grad to be mass-produced, but a separate individual portrait sitting.

If you like what you see, think about it. We cost no more than other Senior studios; the difference is in what you get for your money. At CAP, we keep you in the picture.

The End of the PARTY!

September — at last we're Seniors, but we've got the whole year ahead of us.

November — the weather has gone bad, and it seems this year will never end.

January — Finals!! But the year is still only half over.

March — Everyone begins to dream of warm weather and summer.

May — The Senior Ball, Grad Nite, and the beach are on everyone's mind. At last it is time to PARTY!

June — GRADUATION!! The Gunderson party is over, but another party has just begun!!!

My mastering Hamlet, a + b = c, and "Me Llamo Bruno," we have all earned our diplomas and a celebration. Some students have been accepted to prestigious universities, such as Berkeley or finished at the top of STAL which adds to the jubilation. Since we all know the Class of '86 is the best EVER!!!! This party is over but another has just begun!

Special Thanks To:

Mr. Jones — for putting up with late deadline crunches and sticking with us. Patricia, Laurie, Nels, Yuni, Mary Ann and Michelle — you guys are the best section editors ever. We'll never forget San Miguel, and Nels is going to have one killer book next year. Cathy and Sharon — I never thought I could screw up so bad, thanks for still talking to me!

Thank You to all the rest of the 1986 El Oso Staff!

Shannon,
It was great having you in English. It was pretty fun while it lasted. Too bad I didn't move over to your side of the room sooner. You are such a sweetheart. I'm sorry things didn't work out for you and Chris. He seemed like a really nice guy. Oh well, C'est la Vie (That's life) Hope you have a rad summer and don't do anything I wouldn't do. Take care of yourself and see ya next year when we'll be Seniors. Hope we have at least one class together. God bless you and keep you safe.

Shannon,

Well buddy it has been 2 years now, and I can't say that it has been dull! We've been from "TO THE LEFT", to "HOSERAMA, AND BACK AGAIN!

I wish that I could stay in the high school group one more year, but it is time to move on to big and better things like, and you know who I mean! (A.B. HINT, HINT)

Thanks for always being there for me, to push me into asking Barry to the Sadies, and having a big enough ear to listen when I was down in the dumps with "THE FAMILY"!

I love you, and I want you to know that I will always be there for you, no matter what time, no matter what day!

You're the B.F. a girl could ever have!

P.S.
I'll take you out for dinner sometime soon.
